Radicals Adopt "One Big Union" Idea.
On her return trip to Tacoma, the R-34 was jammed in the streets by a mob of radicals who adopted the "One Big Union" idea. The mob was so large that it was impossible for the R-34 to move forward. The radicals were shouting slogans and waving flags. The R-34 was finally able to move forward after a long struggle.

SEE SAN DIEGO AND EAT BOHEMIAN FOOD.
BACK FROM SIBERIA, CZECHO-SLOVAK TROOPS AT CAMP KEARNEY GET TREAT.
SAN DIEGO, July 7.—The Czechoslovak troops, now at Camp Kearney on their way back to Bohemia from Siberia, were guests on a great eight-day trip today about San Diego given them by the War Camp Community Service. The thirty-five invalid soldiers from the hospital were taken in private cars, with the Red Cross nurses and physicians traveling with the soldiers to San Diego, and at the United States Service Club a luncheon of Bohemian dishes was served. The grateful men beamed their thanks and after the meal sang in their native voices national hymns of their country. The Czechs sing without accompaniment the song: "About 400 of the men were taken over the city on a sight-seeing trip in army trucks, and the rest will have the same tomorrow. Tomorrow they will give a parade or review at Camp Kearney in return for the services shown them by the San Diegans. The Czech-Slovak march without band music, singing unaccompanied during their maneuvers. Although many of them limp and are crippled, all will take part in the review, except the few bed-ridden ones. The troops will leave Camp Kearney in two or three days for Washington, where they will be reviewed by the President and will then sail for their homes. A commission of five men, privates in the army, have been selected by the troops to give an account to the new government of the volunteer army and their struggles in Siberia. The commission is composed of a doctor of philosophy, a medical doctor, a newspaper editor and men of that type.

SAYS COUNCIL VIOLATED LAW.
Head of Investigating Committee Makes Charge.
Claims Defense Body was the Secret Government.
War Legislation Formulated Before Declaration.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—"Seven men formed a secret government of the United States" which, working "behind closed doors," determined all of the so-called war legislation "weeks and even months" before war was declared against Germany, Chairman Graham of the House committee investigating War Department expenditures, charged today after reading into the record a digest of the minutes of the Council of National Defense.
The seven men were named by Mr. Graham as follows: Godfrey, Howard E. Coffin, Bernard M. Baruch, Samuel Gompers, Franklin H. Martin, Julius Rosenwald and Daniel Willard, members of the advisory commission of the council. This commission, he added, was designed by law to act in purely an advisory capacity to the council, composed of six Cabinet officers, but the President, he asserted, made them the real executives.
After Mr. Graham had read to the investigating committee a digest designed to show that the military draft, food control and press censorship had been discussed by the commission several weeks before war was declared, Representative Reavis, Republican, Nebraska, interrupting, asked if "all this was prior to the President's speech on armed neutrality, in which he said he was not contemplating war."
The chairman answered affirmatively.
"TO EDUCATE CONGRESS," Mr. Graham said that the council of the council and commission, in Senate and House, led Mr. Coffin to urge that a "definite channel of contact" be established between the council and Congress. "In other words," commented the chairman, "Congress ought to be educated."
In brief, Mr. Graham's digest charged the President organized the council in violation of the law, and that in addition to framing legislation, he dictated policies the country was to pursue, and befriended "his business."
Minutes of the council were read to the committee by Mr. Graham, together with a report in which he asserted the council assumed such broad powers that Mr. Goethals, former chief of the purchase, storage and traffic division of the War Department, defied it. Cabinet members protested against its activities, and Judge Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, accused it of operating in "flagrant violation of law."
Mr. Graham declared the President created the "secret government" by ignoring and reversing the intent of Congress in authorizing the establishment of a Council of National Defense in August, 1916. As authorized by Congress, he said, the council was to be composed of six members of the Cabinet, who were to be the real executives, and he said that the President had appointed to the council men who were to act in a purely advisory capacity. Instead of doing this, Mr. Graham asserted, the President made the advisory council the real executives, "clothing them with unprecedented and almost limitless powers."
LAI D OUT CONGRESS WORK.
"Behind closed doors, weeks and even months before war was declared," he said, "these seven men designed practically every war measure which Congress subsequently enacted. They devised the entire system of purchasing war supplies, planned a press censorship, designed a system of food control and selected Herbert Hoover as its director, and even determined on the day light saving scheme."
"Conceived within the law," but brought into existence in absolute violation of law, it is not surprising to find this secret government of the United States itself persistently ignored and violated the law; that it allowed interested parties to use the prices of war supplies; that it put the people of the country to incalculable, unnecessary expense and carried things with a high hand."
GOETHALS CALLED IN.
Mr. Graham declared that when Maj. Gen. Goethals was called "at the eleventh hour to rescue the War Department from the public obloquy which was fast settling upon it as a result of the methods and incapacity of the commission, he repudiated and practically defied it."
"Our soldiers were actually dying of pneumonia in the camps because of lack of proper clothing and blankets," Mr. Graham said, "and Gen. Goethals assumed the duties of Quartermaster-General only on condition he should have free scope in the performance of his duties, unhindered by the Council of National Defense."
"Immediately he took from the members of that council their power to order purchases and fix prices and soon dispensed with the services of those members of the advisory commission who had so deplorably

VALUES HIGH; TAX RATE LOW.

Orange County Shows Gain of Many Millions.

Oil Development Responsible for Big Increase.

Authorities Expect Companies to Start Contests.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) SANTA ANA, July 7.—The total assessed valuation of Orange county property this year is $96,906,813, an increase of $16,500,000 over last year, according to the assessment rolls turned over to the Board of Equalization, sitting at the County Auditor James Sleeper.

With an assessed valuation subject to county tax of $47.57, $15. It is practically certain that Orange county will this year have probably the lowest tax rate of any county in the State. Operative property is assessed at $4.548,950 and the estimated assessment of railroad property in the county is $4,000,000. The $16,000,000 increase in the assessment is the result of new oil development, including the Union rasher near Placencia, and regrading of assessments throughout the county. The Irvine company's assessment on its large ranch holdings south of Santa Ana was increased approximately $1,000,000.

At least two contests are expected to be made before the Board of Equalization this year. One will be by the Birch Oil Company, which has contested every assessment placed upon it for several years. The other will be by the Standard Oil Company, which will not only fight its assessment, but will also make it fight to have its valuable Murphy lease properties placed back in the Lowell district, where they were before being divided some months ago between the Fullerton, Orange, Buena Park and La Habra school districts. If the Standard should win this fight, it will save $160,000 on its school taxes.

Plans for Building at Tulare Accepted by City Council.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) TULARE, July 7.—Plans of the memorial auditorium and city hall which were prepared by San Francisco architects have been accepted by the City Council, and July 19 has been set as the date for opening the bids on the $50,000 in city bonds, the proceeds of which will be used for the building. The structure as designed will contain a general assembly hall capable of seating about 1500 persons, all of the city offices, club-rooms, and a gymnasium. It is estimated six months will be required for its completion.

The affair will be held at Mr. Linnard's own Hotel Maryland here and promises to be the most representative gathering of prominent men of Pasadena ever held. The dinner is being arranged by Mr. Linnard's friends as a testimonial to the hotel executive's long and continued interest in the development and welfare of Pasadena and Southern California and by way of congratulating him for his fellow citizens upon the successful inauguration of the Linnard chain in the East.

SCHOOL UPHEAVAL DEFERRED. The new Board of Education organized this afternoon, but the meeting was devoid of any "fireworks" relating to the superintendent's tenure. Action on the superintendent's situation was deferred until tomorrow, when the new board will meet at the home of the president, George R. Bickley. Members of the new majority on the board, which is known to favor the retention of superintendent of Dr. J. M. Rhodes, would make no statement about what is to come up tomorrow but intimated that the superintendent would be discussed. The members of the new board have been securing local advice. It is learned, and it is believed that the election as superintendent of Dr. John Franklin West of San Diego by the outgoing board will be contested and the supporters a majority.

BRUSH FIRE NEAR DAM. A brush fire broke out in the Arroyo Seco not far from the construction camp for the Devil's Gate flood control dam this afternoon. BUILDING BOOM.

Town of Van Nuys Enters Upon Period of Prosperity.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) VAN NUYS, July 7.—Building operations in the Van Nuys community for the first six months of the present year reached a total of $118,942. The best month was April, when the amount of permits issued was $45,030.

Dwellings and poultry houses lead all other classes of construction. There are at the present time three business buildings assured for Shermans Way. One of these, a modern brick garage, 50 by 125 feet, was started recently by L. Greenburg and C. C. Seibert. It will cost about $18,000. G. Hufaker has broken the ground for a new garage and George Hardman will start work on a new building during the year. Notwithstanding the number of dwellings erected during the year, the demand for houses to rent is greater than ever.

Prospects for building during the next six months are brighter than they were at the start of the year, and unless all signs fail, Van Nuys will close the year with a record of $300,000.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) LONG BEACH, July 7.—Charged with impersonating a soldier and masquerading in the uniform of the United States Army, E. R. Davis, who has been receiving free board and lodging at the local headquarters of the American Red Cross for the last two months, was taken into custody late this afternoon by the local police.

Representing himself to be a member of the Twenty-eighth Company, Coast Artillery, according to the local Red Cross records, Davis, attired in the uniform of a coast artillery private, appealed to the local relief organization for assistance April 21. He is said to have made the statement that he has seen service in the Mexican Revolution.

Davis, who gave his age as 20 years, was recommended as in need of financial assistance, according to the Red Cross officials, by Hans von Hoffmann, proprietor of the Mira Mar nursery. Although he gladly accepted the free board and lodging extended by the Red Cross, the youth never seriously considered going to work, it is said, so an investigation was launched as to the authenticity of his representations.

Following a strenuous grilling by a number of regular service men stationed at the Red Cross headquarters, Davis broke down and is said to have confessed that he was never in the service. He was turned over to the local police, who notified the Department of Justice in Los Angeles of the case.

GOES TO JAIL WHILE LAW IS TESTED.

PASADENA, July 7.—Fred Daniel, Los Angeles lawyer and motorist enthusiast, today began a 15-day sentence in the Pasadena City Jail, to test the legality of the Pasadena city ordinance under which he was sentenced by Police Judge F. S. Dunham.

Judge Dunham did not send Daniel to jail until the law was tested, and his attorney, Francis Burns, submitted without further argument, confident that the Supreme Court will reverse the lower tribunal.

While he is in jail, attorneys of the Auto Club of Southern California will endeavor to have the legality of the ordinance tested in the State Supreme Court.

The Pasadena police recently made wholesale arrests of motorists on the arroyo bridge, charging them with violations of the ordinance.

Hendrix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Hendrix, of 1110 West Washington avenue, were married here by Rev. C. P. Carroll at Colton, Saturday.

They returned to their respective homes after an over-Sunday visit with relatives in Santa Barbara, expecting to keep their wedding a secret for several weeks. But the marriage license was recorded in San Bernardino, today, and the secret was short-lived. Both young people are well known and popular among a wide circle of friends.

GOES TO JAIL WHILE LAW IS TESTED.

PASADENA, July 7.—Fred Daniel, Los Angeles lawyer and motorist enthusiast, today began a 15-day sentence in the Pasadena City Jail, to test the legality of the Pasadena city ordinance under which he was sentenced by Police Judge F. S. Dunham.

Judge Dunham did not send Daniel to jail until the law was tested, and his attorney, Francis Burns, submitted without further argument, confident that the Supreme Court will reverse the lower tribunal.

While he is in jail, attorneys of the Auto Club of Southern California will endeavor to have the legality of the ordinance tested in the State Supreme Court.

The Pasadena police recently made wholesale arrests of motorists on the arroyo bridge, charging them with violations of the ordinance.

POMONA CANNERS READY TO FILL CAPACITIES.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) POMONA, July 7.—The 400,000 pounds of apricots handled during the last week by the two local canneries amounting to about 200,000 pounds, while the Sunset had in advance of that number, the institution will supply the helpers next week. The number that will be canned in the city was the big day, as the canneries was $2275 in the city, a similar sum being paid to the Sunset.

The week will see the season at its height. The week will be a rush for the canneries. The fruit is ripening and must be canned as fast as it can be. It is necessary to save all the fruit that is brought in. The rate of ten truckloads a day, the Sunset is bringing in. The Sunset is bringing in the fruit. The Sunset is bringing in the fruit. FUNERAL SERVICE IN SANTA ANA FINANCE.

MASONIC HONORS FOR CEREMONY FOR GEORGE H. RANDALL.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) SANTA ANA, July 7.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon, under Masonic auspices, for George H. Randall, 67, who was killed Saturday afternoon when he fell from the roof of the Los Angeles Sanatorium. Mr. Randall had been affected, it was said, by a nervous breakdown he suffered several days ago, but as to whether he fainted or was with a sudden impulse to go to the roof, his family is not sure. The accident occurred in a moment when Mr. Randall was a native of Van, N. Y., and came here to Colorado Springs twenty years ago, where he organized the Realty Company, which owned the Nob Hill tract here, and was a member of the county established in the town of Santa Ana. He was a chicken fancier and a time was known throughout the State as the "chicken man" of Santa Ana. He is survived by two daughters, Helen and Eleanor, his mother, Sarah Hayes Randall, of his brother, Harry, of Los Angeles, Charles Morse of Tempe, Arizona, and a son, George H. Morse of Long Beach, and a daughter, Mrs. H. Morse of Placentia, who is a sister-in-law and housekeeper of Lee of Santa Ana. Mr. Randall was 67 years of age.

NOTED MINSTREL SERIOUSLY ILL.

SAN DIEGO, July 7.—George Primrose, who acquired popularity a generation ago as a comedian and dancer, and who is now seriously ill in a hospital here, has been given a party by his friends. His physician has announced that he has a fair chance for recovery. Primrose is 44 years of age, and much of his life has been on the stage. He left New York in 1906, and came to San Diego in 1907, accompanied by his wife, who is now in the city.

BIG PAY NOW

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE
POMONA, July 7.—More than 400,000 pounds of apricots were handled during the last three days by the two local canneries, the amount being about equally divided between the Golden State and the Sunset. At the former establishment there were about 250 persons employed, while the Sunset had about 100 in advance of that number. Irrigation will employ fifty men here next week. This is the first season that will be employed in the case of the canneries. The pay roll of the Golden State cannery was $12,000 last week, with a similar sum being paid at the Sunset.

ELECTRICIANS QUIT FIGHT.

Telephone Strike Seems to Have Collapsed Here.

Federal Mediators Confer at San Francisco.

Shipyard Expects to Reopen Within a Few Days.

As was predicted by officials of the Southern California Telephone Company, the beginning of the fourth week of the telephone strike was marked yesterday by the return of more than fifty electricians, who abandoned the strike movement when they learned that a new and attractive scale of wages had gone into effect.

With all the chairs at the various exchange switchboards filled with competent telephone operators, and with electricians resuming work each day, the company officials say business is moving along in a satisfactory manner, and the strike seems to have collapsed. The company already has enough men to handle emergency repairs, and it says it is not looking for strikebreakers—that it is now employing no electricians except those who want to go to work again.

A. B. Cass, president of the company, stated that he had no word to the effect that a conference of Federal mediators will take place in this city. Charles T. Connell, local conciliator for the government, has gone to San Francisco to participate in a mediation meeting, and Cass says he is of the belief that the local company will be expected to abide by whatever decision is reached there.

Officials of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company have decided to reopen the yard and employ all former employees who desire to go back to work, but the date for opening the yard has not been announced. The expectation is that it will resume operations within a few days.

Saturday night at a mass meeting of shipyard workers the issue was thrashed out again, and the conservative element went on record as being in favor of giving the ship committee power to act in settling the dispute by conference with officials of the company. The ship committee, which is not empowered to make any kind of an agreement with the company and had heretofore failed at the several conferences, just when the conservatives were ready to give the ship committee sufficient power to pass on questions which might arise in conference "Curly" Grow, who sat with the Seattle radicals when they declared for strike, and President Sam Gompers of the American Federation of Labor in convention a few days ago, led the radicals in a movement to deny the ship committee power to settle the dispute and keep that power in the Metal Trades Council.

LOSES A CRUSHER. The county yesterday lost its chance to buy the Fish Canyon rock crusher. It had an agreement with the owner to buy the plant, but was waiting to obtain a right of way to the crusher, which is a landmark in the great plain marking the approach to Fish Canyon.

Yesterday Supervisor Coswell was notified that the rock crusher had been bought by Russell, Green & Fell at a price not stated. The county desired the plant to provide rock for rip-rap work in the flood control scheme.

SENT TO JAIL. William T. King was arraigned yesterday before Justice Hawthorn on a charge of burglarizing the home of E. Gregory of 558 South Main street. He is accused of entering the rooms on July 3 and stealing a suit of clothes. His hearing was set for July 9 and he was committed to the County Jail in default of $1000 bail.

RESIGNS FROM THE BAR. Albert M. Norton yesterday tendered his resignation as a member of the bar of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, and his name was stricken from the roll of attorneys.

HIGH LIFE. TRAVELS OF OLIVE.

SHE'S BEEN PUTTING THE "NEW" IN NEW YORK.

By Olive Gray. (SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

NEW YORK, July 7.—The first intimation of jollity on public faces, or on the face of the public, was during the police parade. Even the Boy Scouts' parade was as solemn as seems to be the battling attitude of New York, even in its merrymaking. The Boy Scouts, in fact, seemed to have imprinted upon their features the forecast of gravity, shadowing the responsibility of being a New Yorker—they were as unsmiling as their grown-up brethren and sisters.

But, imposing as was the police parade, it played, during a halt, one of the motorcycle cops tooted his horn, and it said, as plainly as any bell learning to speak, or as any lamb learning to bleat—"Mas-mas!" Like a flash, another horn, down the line, answered. And then came the "Mas-mas" or rather screeches, in every note of the scale, and voicing every possible word which hopes, either young or old, might utter for the first time during our visit in the solemn metropolis, fun actually broke loose and there were smiles and even laughter on all sides.

Revival of the Horse. I have seen more horses in New York, than in Los Angeles for several years, and I would almost dare say, more than during the entire trip across the continent.

You see, fashion, has come to the rescue of the horse. Of course, the fad started in Paris. During the war, every motor car, new, old, high-class and shabby, was pressed into service and as a consequence, Paris, in the fashionable, even in the most severely imitative of cities, forthwith aped Paris and out came the carriages. Around the Waldorf, in the fashionable, even in the most severely imitative of cities, forthwith aped Paris and out came the carriages.

The exercises will be opened with the academic procession, in which the graduates, faculty and officials of the university will take part. Maj. Charles D. Lockwood, formerly oral surgeon of the college, who has recently returned from Europe, will be the principal speaker.

Degrees will be awarded to eighty-two candidates, the largest class in the history of the college, this record having been made in spite of the war and the "flu."

The scholarship medal will be awarded to R. E. Barton, and the medal for excellence in mathematics to R. L. Howard. The medal in operative technique will be given to R. C. Tannis; the Ford medal to L. A. Frasier, and the La Touche medal to R. M. Rogers.

In addition to these medals ten members have been elected to the honor fraternity Omicron Kappa Upsilon, as follows: R. E. Barton, J. P. Fishman, E. E. Hoesboom, Guy Van Buskirk, A. Olney, J. H. Dougherty, E. R. Fried, E. J. Burkowski, H. S. Glick, and J. R. Newcomer.

COMMUNICATION FILED. The Sheet Metal Workers' Local Union yesterday notified the City Council that hereafter their rate for labor will be $7 1/2 cents per hour, with Saturday afternoons and holidays at double time. It also stated that its members will not work for any concern that does not employ union members exclusively. The communication was filed.

Nature Hunger. To see the eagerness with which the ordinary people of New York hang up every inch of sunshine, disport themselves on every scrap of grass and hover in the vicinity of shade trees, is to wonder. If they really love nature, as such actions would seem to indicate, why, oh why do they remain imprisoned in such a city? Central Park on Sunday is a sight to make one weep. Central Park, the famed metropolitan beauty spot of the world! There are within a few miles radius of Los Angeles, 100 canyons more beautiful—much more beautiful—than the poor old, mangy Central Park would bury her bald head in shame, could she behold them! Oh, well, I suppose people are not really to blame for not realizing California; but it is their misfortune.

Angela's Trouseau. She did not have it posted on the outside of her handbag, nor did she even whisper it to her dearest friend before leaving home, but it was Angela's intention to purchase her trousseau while in New York.

After shopping—literally for several days, she said to me one evening: "I have reached a conclusion on the clothes matter. I have decided to buy my trousseau in Los Angeles." After waiting for her news to duly sink in, she went on: "You see, our stores keep people in this market to watch the modes, to buy at lowest cost, and to deliver to us the merchandise at about the same moment it is appearing before the New York gaze. It is the same with clothes as with magazines. Published at a certain time, every city in the Union receives the articles simultaneously. When you and I in Los Angeles are reading the eleventh chapter of 'How Betty Won Her Husband,' Aunt Sophia, in Washington, and Aunt Louise in Boston, are reading the very self-same chapters at that identical moment—If they wish to do so. I see—after accompanying you to those wholesale buying places—that it is the same with clothes. Now, it looks to me that, for me to insist upon making my selections among the entire strangers whose only aim is to get my money, rather than to win my eternal patronage and the patronage of my family, as the store owners are bent on doing, is very much as though I were set upon purchasing grain in the fields, ignorant as I am of grain fields, just because I wished to go to the source of things for my bread. Experts in merchandise probably know more about its intrinsic values than I do. I'll allow them to select for me, and I'll take the results of their information and wisdom."

"Oh, Angela," I replied admiringly. "I do hope Edwin realizes what a prize wife he is securing. For you have spoken with such wisdom as rarely comes to any, save to mature philosophers."

So Angela's trousseau will be purchased in Los Angeles; and I'll wager it will lack no whit of quality or style.

A Sinister Undercurrent. The call to arms sent abroad one night by the city's fire department, and capable readiness for action a great force of militia, was declared to be "for practice" merely; but when, next night, at a meeting of the Bolsheviki in Madison Square Garden, incendiaryism ran to the length of threats to dynamite the city, and there was even a movement toward, quelled only by the multiple

EIGHTY-TWO TO GET DENTIST DIPLOMAS.

UNIVERSITY CLASS LARGEST IN ITS HISTORY—MANY MEDAL WINNERS.

Commencement exercises of the college of dentistry of the University of Southern California will be held this evening in the First Methodist Church, to which the public is invited. Although the graduates of this college took part in the commencement exercises of the university June 19, they did not receive their degrees as the educational council of the National Association of Dental Faculties had decreed that thirty-two weeks' actual work must be completed before awarding of degrees. On account of the influenza vacation this amount of time has just been completed.

The exercises will be opened with the academic procession, in which the graduates, faculty and officials of the university will take part. Maj. Charles D. Lockwood, formerly oral surgeon of the college, who has recently returned from Europe, will be the principal speaker.

ARRAIGNED ON SORRY CHARGE; DENIES IT.

Arthur E. Cole, a writer-do-rancher, living near San Bernardino, was arraigned before United States District Judge Trippe, yesterday, on the charge of sending two improper letters through the mails, and pleading not guilty.

One of the letters was mailed to Mrs. Edith L. McCrary, 1013 Fifth street, San Bernardino, and the other to Miss Pearl Riden at the same address. It is said that Mrs. McCrary was the housekeeper of Cole for several years following his separation from his wife, but Cole never saw Miss Riden but once in his life.

Cole stoutly denies that he wrote either letter. His case will be set next Monday when the regular July calendar will be called.

ALL RUSS JEWS ANTI-BOLSHEVIK

Great Majority Classed with the Bourgeoisie.

Hebrews Suffer Most from Destroyed Trade.

Stable Democratic Regime the Only Savior.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK, July 7.—A. J. Back, director of the Russian Information Bureau in the United States, today made public the following cable received from M. M. Vinaver, the recognized leader of the Russian Jewry and the chairman of the Central Committee of the Constitutional Democratic party:

"The entire Russian Jewry struggles against Bolshevism. This is true with regard not only to the bourgeoisie, but to the Democratic classes of the Russian Jewry as well. It is sufficient to say that not a single Jewish Socialist faction has joined the Bolsheviki. All political factions of Russian Jewry are struggling against Bolshevism.

"The great majority of the Jewish population, including many of the poor, are being classed by the Bolsheviki with the so-called bourgeois. The Bolsheviki rule the Jewish population, not to speak of very insignificant exceptions, is suffering and starving. The Bolsheviki regime has destroyed the industries and the trade, and the Jewish population which made its living mostly through participation in the industrial and commercial life is suffering probably more than other nationalities. The same time the Bolsheviki are persecuting all religious.

AGAINST BOLSHEVISM.

"The anti-Semites are using very widely the fact that Trotsky is a Jew, but the participation of several Jews among the Bolsheviki leaders does not nullify the fact that the Russian Jewry in its overwhelming majority actively struggles against Bolshevism. It is significant that Bolshevism spread mostly in Central and Eastern Russia, where the Jews constitute an insignificant majority.

"In certain circles in Western Europe and I believe in the United States there is a belief that the reaction in Russia is inevitable after the elimination of the Bolsheviki. This opinion is probably due to the impression that the Russian Democratic intelligentsia disappeared and the only factors working in Russia at present are the Bolsheviki on the one hand and the armies of Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denikin on the other.

KOLCHAK THE CENTER.

"I wish to emphasize that the Russian Democratic intelligentsia, whose task it is to build a new Russia, did not disappear, but on the contrary worked very intensively during the last months, although their work is not seen very much from the outside world. The Russian Democratic forces are concentrated around Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denikin. They work also in Paris, London and other centers abroad.

"The immediate task before the Russian Democrats is the establishment in co-operation with the Russian government in Omsk of such a Democratic system in Russia, which should safeguard her from the return to the old regime after the Bolsheviki tyranny is destroyed. Only through the existence of a stable Democratic regime can Russia be saved and with Russia the great part of the Jewish people who live within her boundaries. The American Jewry would help their brethren living in Russia, very much if they would help us in our work of building up an anti-Bolsheviki Democratic Russia."

PRELATE'S REQUIEM.

Syrians to Pray for Archbishop who Betrifled His Race.

Solemn requiem high mass will be said at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning at St. Peter's Church on San Fernando street for the late Archbishop Athanasius Sawaya of Syria, who died recently at Marseille. Nearly half of the Syrians in California come from Mt. Lebanon, Beirut and Gubbali, where the archbishop was the chief prelate. He visited New York City in 1912 and secured modern American farm machinery for the benefit of his people.

On account of his denunciation of the Turks, the Turkish government in 1914 sentenced the archbishop to be hanged, but he was then in France and he remained there, during an exile. Sorrow over the massacre of thousands of his people is said to have caused his final illness. The archbishop had a number of distant kinsmen in this city, including Rev. Father Geradimos Sawaya, pastor of the Syrian Catholic Church here. The Rev. James A. Reardon of Long Beach will preach the sermon on Sunday and Bishop J. J. Cantwell will give the benediction.

BURLESON INVITES STRIKE ARBITRATION.

COAST PHONE EMPLOYEES AND MANAGERS ASKED TO SUBMIT DIFFERENCES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Postmaster-General Burleson today invited employees and managers of Pacific Coast telephone companies to submit their differences, which have resulted in a strike, to the wire control board for arbitration.

The Postmaster-General made the arbitration proposal after a conference with Senator Phelan of California, who said that considerable interruption to communication had resulted from the strike. The Postmaster-General suggested that should both sides agree to arbitration, the strike be called off pending hearing of the case by the wire board.

Sensor Phelan told Mr. Burleson that information from the Pacific Coast was that the employees and the companies virtually had agreed to arbitration, but that negotiations had been halted by differences as to whether the advance should be made retroactive.

CONTROL THE TO ACT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—From two sources news came today to the effect that the telephone operators here of efforts to mediate the differences between the workers and the company. A dispatch from Washington told of an invitation from Postmaster-General Burleson that arbitration of grievances be placed in the hands of the Wire Control Board.

Mayor Ralph of San Francisco received a telegram from Postmaster-General Burleson, asking a message from Burleson to J. F. Noonan, international president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, as follows:

"The only question in controversy on the Pacific Coast seems to be as to when the increase of wages should become effective. The Wire Control Board is still in existence and functioning, and will promptly pass upon the question as to when the wage increase is to go into effect.

"Full hearings of both sides, with opportunity for presentation of all phases of the question will be given the Wire Control Board and the company. The question of increased wage scale will become effective will be decided strictly upon its merits and absolute justice done to all parties.

"The Wire Control Board is a governmental agency created to settle controversies and to set the board aside and create another agency would be a confession that the government could not be relied upon to do justice.

"To take such action would be indefensible. The suggestion of arbitration tends to confuse and delay a satisfactory settlement of this controversy and to set the return to work and you can assure them that there will be a prompt consideration given to the matter by the Wire Control Board as soon as they are ready fully to present their case.

Strike leaders here on reading the Postmaster-General's telegram pointed out that there were other points of difference between the company and workers aside from the one mentioned by Burleson as being the "only question in controversy."

The company, the strikers said, had made no offer to meet the demand of operators for a minimum wage of $4 a day at the end of three years' service and a difference exists between the final wage offer to the strikers and the demands made by them.

VALLEJO, July 7.—Telephone service was resumed this morning after being suspended for three weeks, owing to the strike of the California and Nevada operators and electrical workers against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Seven nonunion girls were brought here from San Francisco. They are eating and sleeping in the local telephone offices. The normal complement of operators is twenty-seven.

OREGON GIRLS STRIKE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

ALBANY (Or.) July 7.—Twenty-seven of the twenty-nine telephone operators here joined the strike early today.

Manager Sanders of the telephone company secured five girls to replace those who went on strike and said he could handle the situation.

MEDFORD (Or.) July 7.—For the first time since the beginning of the telephone strike, pickets were placed before the exchange here today by the striking girls operators. This action followed the organization on Sunday of a block of the Portland Operators' Union with fourteen members.

ZIONISTS' DRIVE

ON FRIDAY WEEK.

Flower Day, which is devoted by the Zionist Association of America to raising funds with which to buy lands in Palestine for the Jewish nation, will this year be observed in Los Angeles on Friday, July 13. The drive was to have been held last Sunday, but the Los Angeles district of the association got a postponement by special permit. Pretty girls will sell flowers at all the downtown corners and at the beaches. A. Shapiro is head of this district.

DEFENDS "TRIBUNE" OF PRO-GERMAN CHARGE.

CHIEF EDITORIAL WRITER FOR PAPER TESTIFIES IN FORD LIBEL SUIT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

MT. CLEMENS (Mich.) July 7.—Defending the Chicago Tribune against charges of pro-German motives made by the plaintiff's counsel in opening the case, Tiffany Blake, chief editorial writer for the newspaper, occupied the witness stand in the Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune libel suit at practically all of today's session of court.

Mr. Blake declared the policy of the Tribune was strictly Americanism, and that the editorial which called Mr. Ford "an anarchist" was published in support of the government and without the influence of Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances.

"The Tribune, Mr. Blake said, had differed with President Wilson and with many Americans on the submarine issue until after the sinking of the Lusitania and the entrance of the United States into the war.

"The newspaper, he said, regarded the submarine as an implement of war which this country might at some time wish to employ in defense of its long coast line. For this reason it should be treated as any other weapon.

Mr. Blake defined other points of the newspaper's policy as, denying the right of sinking unarmed merchantmen without visit and search; opposing the carrying of munitions on passenger boats; opposing the carrying of munitions on passenger boats; opposing the carrying of munitions on passenger boats; opposing the carrying of munitions on passenger boats.

Mr. Blake declared the newspaper announced its intention to stand squarely behind the President in whatever action he took.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland of counsel for the Tribune asked the witness what nation's interests the newspaper considered paramount in its editorial discussions.

"Those of the United States, first, and then the time," Mr. Blake replied. "This is the position which we have maintained at any time of the world war."

Mr. Blake said he was wholly without personal enmity toward the automobile manufacturer, and gave reasons why he approved the alleged libelous editorial of June 12, 1918, headed, "Ford is an Anarchist."

"The motive of the editorial was to offset the anarchistic influence of Mr. Ford," Mr. Blake said.

"The Tribune desired to support the government in its efforts to protect American life on the Mexican border."

"If this protection was not offered the administration would not have deserved the name of government. Troops were called for. Mr. Ford did as that he could to prevent response to this call. The Tribune did what it could to support the call, and as an incident of that support criticized Mr. Ford."

GIRL'S PRAYER GETS FATHER OUT OF JAIL.

MAN WITH FAMILIES HERE AND IN COLORADO FREED ON HABEAS CORPUS.

The prayers of Pauline Fanning, 11 years old, were answered yesterday when her father, Marshall Fanning, walked out of the County Jail, a free man.

The father was arrested June 23 upon information from Canyon City, Colo., that he was wanted for failure to provide for three children at Fremont, Colo.

Less than a week ago Pauline arose at a prayer meeting at the Bible Institute and asked all to pray for her father. Several persons became interested and at the instance of Public Defender Wood a writ of habeas corpus was obtained by Attorneys David D. Salles and R. H. Scott. The case was heard yesterday, before Judge Crail.

"Have you extradition papers?" asked Deputy District Attorney Powell of Under Sheriff Fulkerson, who came from Colorado to take Fanning there for trial. The officer said he had been delayed in getting them, but they would arrive in a few days.

"The man has been in jail two weeks now," said Mr. Powell.

The writ was granted and the defendant discharged.

The court was informed that the District Attorney's office would not issue a fugitive warrant for Fanning, as the man has three children here who would become dependent upon this State if Fanning were taken to Colorado for trial. An affidavit signed by one of the children setting forth that her father was working as a laborer and supporting his children here, was sent to Gov. Stephens.

asking him not to honor a requisition for extradition. The children here are those of Fanning's first wife and those in Colorado are by his second wife.

MacWILLIAMS TO ACT AT DANCE WEDDING.

Rev. Glen MacWilliams will officiate at the "Terpsichorean wedding" at Fred Solomon's arcade on Grand avenue when one of the dancing instructors, Miss Elmay Day will be married to Milburn Taylor, who served as private, over the top. Instead of marching to Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" the hundreds of guests will dance to the tune of Mr. Solomon's live band. The wedding will be a private affair, to stage a matrimonial dance every fortnight. He will furnish the services of the minister, the music, the wedding cake and give each couple $50 as a wedding present.

Pork is king today. No dependable industry offers such phenomenal return on investment. Whoever expects to make money in the future, must first make money in the present. Whoever is satisfied with smaller profits is doing his own money a positive injustice.

Nothing makes money grow faster than hogs can grow

Pork prices are soaring skyward and are morally certain of soaring higher. Bacon, now at 70 cents a pound, may soon be selling for a dollar. Consult your own common sense and start a small $150 investment working that may easily become a basis for a future fortune. We have a real opportunity, if you get in on it before it is too late.

If you can't pay all cash we will give liberal terms.

Small savings, on deposit at 4 per cent, will never get you anywhere. You can "save" for a lifetime at that rate and still remain poor. Your money is just as safe, if "deposited" in hogs, and should earn you the equivalent of 50 to 100 per cent a year in the next five years, under our co-operative plan.

Mrs. J. H. MacDonald, wife of Lieut.-Col. MacDonald of the One Hundred and Fifty-first Field Artillery, narrowly escaped drowning in the Anoka River. She swam too far from shore and became exhausted when H. J. Finn succeeded in rescuing her.

Going by way of auto from here to Duluth and then East by way of the Great Lakes is becoming one of the most popular routes of travel among St. Paulites.

MINNEAPOLIS.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 7.—Municipal Judge Mathias Baldwin today ruled that persons no longer can be charged with selling liquor without a license. The ruling came after two men were charged to the charge. According to his decision, the city statute covering this is obsolete in view of the fact that the State prohibition law prohibits the sale of liquor under any consideration.

Two men were killed and another severely injured today when a car was involved in a collision with a truck in the downtown district today.

Because fines have failed to stop automobile speeding in Minneapolis, violators of speed laws hereafter will get straight warehouse sentences without the option of paying a fine.

Plans are under way here for a State fair week to honor the men who served in the United States forces during the war.

MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, July 7.—A Milwaukee boy, Forrest McNeill, has invented a land torpedo for which he has received a patent. The patent will be submitted to Secretary of War Baker by Milwaukee engineers with the suggestion that it be adopted by the army.

MOTION TO DISMISS DENIED.

District Judge E. C. Dean today denied the motion of the defense to dismiss the conspiracy charge against President A. C. Townley of the National Nonpartisan League and Joseph Gilbert, a league organizer.

Attorney George Hoke, for the defense, then began his opening statement.

During his address to the jury Attorney Hoke clashed sharply with J. E. Markham, Assistant Attorney-General.

"We will undertake to show you," Mr. Hoke said to the jury, "that instead of being conspirators who are the victims of a conspiracy extending over this and neighboring States, this conspiracy was and now is in force for the purpose of destroying the Nonpartisan League as a political machine. It is all politics and since it is, it should be settled in the political arena."

"The men we are attacking, the steel trust and the bankers, who fear that what we are advocating will interfere with their business, have conspired and are now conspiring to knock us out politically. They availed themselves of the opportunity which existed, as they possessed the machinery of the State, of accusing the league of being loyal, by accusing us of being in the pay of Germany and by hiring thugs to break up meetings."

Attorneys for the defense said that State officers were a part of the conspiracy referred to and Judge Dean denied the encounter with the remark: "It would seem that if State officers entered into a conspiracy to do something wrong, they would be indicted and tried. The counsel in his opening statement should confine himself to what he expects to prove."

TOWNLEY'S COUNSEL

ACCUSES THE TRUSTS.

ALLEGES CONSPIRACY AGAINST NONPARTISAN LEAGUE POLITICAL MACHINE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

JACKSON, (Minn.) July 7.—Joseph Gilbert, former Nonpartisan League organization manager and co-defendant with President A. C. Townley, testified in District Court here this afternoon that he never conferred with Townley regarding the speech which Gilbert made at Kenyon in 1917 and at Lakefield in 1918 and that Townley never conferred with him regarding addresses which Townley made during the war.

Townley and Gilbert are on trial charged with conspiracy to foster disloyalty by means of public speeches and literature.

Most of Gilbert's testimony concerned the speech he made at Lakefield, January 23, 1918. He was arrested while making this speech.

The indictment charges that Gilbert in this address declared:

"Our boys are better off on the farms than in the trenches, 5000 miles away. Who will feed those boys when they are in the trenches 5000 miles away?"

Gilbert testified today that he made the speech on the farms rendering just as valuable service toward winning the war as the boys in the trenches.

"I also said who would feed the boys in the trenches if all would be at the front," Gilbert added.

Gilbert denied that he said in a speech at Kenyon, August 17, 1917: "We were stamped into this war by newspaper rot to pull England's chestnuts out of the fire."

"Meats in Storage"

Every working day of the year 75,000,000 pounds of meat are required to supply home and export needs—and only 10 per cent of this is exported.

These facts must be kept in mind when considering the U. S. Bureau of Markets report that on June 1, 1919, there were 1,348,000,000 pounds of meats in cold storage. If the meat in storage was placed on the market it would only be 20 days' supply.

This meat is not artificially withheld from trade channels to maintain or advance prices.

Meats in storage consist of—

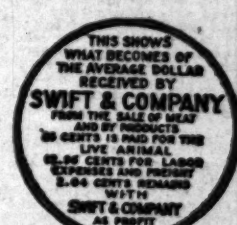

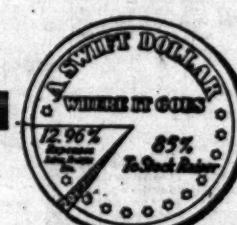

- 65 per cent (approximate) hams, bacon, etc., in process of curing. It takes 30 to 90 days in pickle or salt to complete the process.
- 10 per cent is frozen pork that is to be cured later in the year.
- 6 per cent is lard. This is only four-fifths of a pound per capita, and much of it will have to go to supply European needs.
- 19 per cent is frozen beef and lamb, part of which is owned by the Government and was intended chiefly for over-seas shipment. If this were all diverted to domestic trade channels, it would be only 1½ lbs. per capita—a 3 days' supply.

From this it will be seen that "meats in storage" represent merely unfinished goods in process of curing and the working supply necessary to assure the consumer a steady flow of finished product.

The People and Their Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS
How to Win a Woman.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A young man asks if I will tell him how to win a maiden's heart.

Well, there are two ways to do it. One is to take it by storm. The other way is to capture it by siege. Both ways work.

The woman's choice is by storm. There is something of the cave woman in every woman's nature that always responds to brute force. She yearns to be loved savagely by some man who is ready to murder her if she will not marry him. In her secret soul it is grief to her that the actual physical kidnapping of brides is no longer good form in society. She would doze on being captured by a strong-armed man in an automobile, who would grab her by the hair of the head and whirl her away to a honeymoon full of blood-curdling romances.

Never was a woman humbly, but she was a woman who generally felt kicked for his reward. Be a woman's handy man, fetch and carry for her, take the favors she throws you as gratefully as a dog a bone, and she will snub you every time. Make her believe you stand upon a pedestal above her and she will break her neck climbing up to share your halo.

Women like men who dominate them and the man who does not ask their love, but takes it. The man who tells a woman he is going to marry her, whether she wants him or not, ends by doing it. The courtship by siege is less spectacular and has fewer fireworks about it, but it is equally successful for all things come to the patient waiter. Many points in his favor. By being continually on the spot he establishes a quarantine around his lady love that keeps all other men at a distance. She isn't married to him, but she had better be so far as being isolated from other matrimonial chances.

Also he forges a chain upon her by her gratitude and habit. Propinquity is on his side. She grows dependent upon him and when some fine day, he announces that he can stand the uncertainty no longer and is pulling out for other parts, she realizes that his absence would leave a void that nothing could fill and she weeps upon his collar and begs him to stay.

Another strategic move that usually meets with much success is a star play to a woman's sympathy. New women marry men, because they are sorry for them than for any other reason. This move must be made discreetly though. The man who whines is lost. He doesn't arouse pity. He fills her with disgust. But the man who can make himself pitifully wretched before a woman who has refused him, and who smiles with a broken heart, has a trump card, while the one who can make her believe that she is driving him to suicide has won the game.

Many men are strong advocates of text for future curtain lectures and unfounded suspicion.

The most vital point of courtship, however, is the ability to seize the psychological moment when a woman is ready to say "yes." Never propose to a woman when she is feeling fine and fit, and as she had the world in a sling. Watch for some hour when she is down on her luck, and looks slumpy, and feels that all she wants is to cry on the second button of a man's vest and have him call her "baby."

But after all, these are merely tips on how to win a woman's heart. There is no infallible guide to courtship. If a woman loves a man any old way works. If she doesn't—there is nothing doing.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q: Do cyclones always twist in the same direction? R. T. T. A. North of the equator cyclones revolve opposite to the hands of the clock and south of it with the hands of the clock.

Q: Why is Atlantic City called the City of Conventions? Y. W. A. This seaside resort is the favorite meeting place of societies and institutions from all over the United States. The usual number of conventions held yearly is 170. The year 1910 will break this record, as there are 200 conventions scheduled.

Q: Who is the inventor of the clock? R. L. R. A. The inventor of the clock is unknown. This invention has been attributed to the Chinese, who are said to have possessed clocks 1000 B.C. During the Middle Ages each town in Europe had its clock.

Q: Are dogs liable to poisoning from snake bites? R. L. R. A. All animals, including dogs, into whose circulation the poison secreted by a snake enters, are poisoned by it.

Q: What percentage of wheat is lost in the manufacture of flour? R. M. C. A. About one-third in weight of wheat does not appear in the flour made from it. It requires about 300 pounds of whole wheat to make a barrel of flour the standard weight for which is 196 pounds.

Q: Is an object to sink below the surface must have a specific gravity greater than water. If it has, it will keep going down until it gets to the bottom, even if the water is five miles deep.

Q: Where did the "Princess Pat" Regiment get its name? J. I. L. A. This regiment was named after Princess Patricia, daughter of Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada.

Q: What is a "Turco"? J. I. L. A. Turco is the name given to the French colonial troops from the Barbary states.

WAY PAVED FOR CHURCH TAXES.

School's Exercises Held to Cancel Legal Immunity.

Glendale House of Worship Subject of Protest.

Counsel's Action Promises Trouble for Others.

Deputy County Counsel Valles heaved a bombshell into church circles yesterday, when he held that under the State Constitution the First Methodist Church of Glendale must pay taxes for permitting a public school commencement to be held in the church building.

The County Assessor, because of this use of the church in the First Methodist Church of Glendale, placed the property on the tax roll. A. G. Lindley, a member of the official board, hurried to the Board of Supervisors yesterday and registered an objection. He said the church received no money for the use of the building; further, that it was the only large auditorium in Glendale where the commencement exercises could have been held.

Mr. Valles stood by his legal guns. He pointed out Section 14 of the State Constitution, which provides that when a church building is "used solely and exclusively for religious worship, it shall be free of taxation."

He maintains the one infraction of this clause brings the church property under the tax law, and that the taxes to be assessed must be paid.

Chairman Dodge of the Board of Supervisors declared the Fifth Supervisorial District is "back of" the First Methodist Church, indicating that the Supervisors, unless compelled by the law, will not make the church pay taxes because of the legal error.

If the taxes are paid, other churches throughout the city and county will be placed on the tax roll for alleged violation of Section 14 of the State Constitution. Mr. Lindley did not hesitate to say that if his church is taxed, others ought not to go scot free.

DISABILITY PAY. An amendment to the salary standardization ordinance was adopted by the City Council yesterday, providing for disability compensation to city employees. This section provides that instead of ten days having to elapse before an employee may begin to draw disability payment, he shall receive 45 per cent of his regular compensation, dating from the first day of his incapacity. If absent eight days or more, in cases of illness, if absent from duty for less than eight days, he will receive 75 per cent of his regular salary.

WIFE WINS SKIRMISH IN DOMESTIC BATTLE.

SUING RICH PHYSICIAN FOR MAINTENANCE, SHE GETS ORDER FOR ALIMONY.

Until her separate maintenance suit can be tried, Mrs. Adelaide Wade will receive alimony of $150 a month from her husband, Will L. Wade, a wealthy retired physician. The order was made by Judge Willis yesterday. Dr. Wade is 70 years old. His wife is 40. While she says he owns all stock from which he derives an income of $5200 a year, and a mortgage of $25,000, and receives a pension of $40 a month, Mrs. Wade alleges he left her with only $5.

Mrs. Wade admitted on cross-examination that she owns a 160-acre ranch in Imperial Valley and claims property in St. Andrews place. Dr. Wade disputed her ownership in the St. Andrews place property. He is asking a divorce on the ground of cruelty.

He testified that his wife frequently referred to him and the house cat as "my two cats." He said she falsely accused him of putting poison on her toothbrush. She was also charged with having said to him: "Pay me $25,000 and I will get a divorce."

They were married eight years ago.

WIFE GETS DECREE.

Also Suing Co-respondent for Ten Thousand for Stolen Love.

Mrs. Grace E. Clem, co-respondent in the divorce suit of Mrs. Mayme E. Jackson, also defendant in the pending $10,000 lost-love suit filed by Mrs. Jackson, took the stand in her own defense in Judge Wood's court yesterday in the divorce action. She declared she had not conducted herself improperly with Mr. Jackson. On the other hand, she testified that her attentions to the guests of her apartment-house were impartial. Mr. Jackson also denied vehemently that there was anything between him and Mrs. Clem.

Mrs. Jackson was granted the decree and alimony of $15 a month. Attorney's fees and costs were charged against the defendants. Will Mitchell was counsel for Mrs. Jackson.

BIG MEAT ORDER. A contract was awarded by the City Council yesterday to the Western Packing and Provision Company for furnishing 25,000 pounds of chuck meat to the city, at the rate of $11.45 per 100 pounds.

SAY TEACHER'S SECOND BRODIE.

Officers Tell of Leap Out of Third-Story Window.

Declare Wife's Rap on Door Inspired Daring Act.

How Gray T. Sampson, 41 years of age, a music teacher of Pasadena, is said to have escaped from the third story of an apartment-house near Third street and Grand avenue, in this city, by jumping out of a window, was told yesterday at his arraignment on a statutory charge in Justice Palmer's court.

According to Capt. Hunter, chief investigator of the District Attorney's force, when Mrs. Sampson, the defendant's wife, accompanied by Capt. Hunter and two private detectives, knocked at the apartment door, the music teacher jumped out of a third-story window, landed in a tree and slid down to the sidewalk. He was halted by Capt. Hunter, who arrested him and Mrs. Elena Tuthill, 29, also on a statutory charge. Mrs. Tuthill and Sampson are both married and are well known in Pasadena.

The arrests were brought about by information furnished the District Attorney's office by Mrs. Sampson.

When Sampson was arrested, he denied he had been in the apartment, but his wife found there a rent and watch which she said were her husband's and took them away with her. Sampson was held in the County Jail in default of $500 bail and Mrs. Tuthill was released on her own recognizance.

Sampson, just before leaving the County Jail on bail, said he believes his arrest was brought about in an attempt to entangle him. He said that he had tried to get a divorce from his wife, but failed, and that she filed suit against him two weeks ago, alleging desertion. His case has not been set for trial. He said he is a piano teacher.

MANY SEEK LAND.

Reclamation Projects for Fighters May Include Three in California.

Register Groves and Receiver Mitchell, of the local Land Office, reported yesterday that they had sent to Washington more than 5000 applications of returned soldiers and sailors for public lands, as provided in the recommendation of Secretary of the Interior Lane, and now before Congress in the shape of a bill appropriating $500,000,000 to that enterprise. More applications are coming in every day, and it is believed by Messrs. Groves and Mitchell that California will lead the nation in the number of those who desire to take advantage of the generous offer of the government relating to lands publicly owned. There are only 50,000 applications in the entire United States.

It is understood that there are three reclamation projects contemplated in the plan of Secretary Lane. One is to irrigate the Chuckawalla Valley, a scheme that has been before the government for a number of years, by impounding the flood waters of the Colorado River. Another is to irrigate nonproductive lands in Kern county, and the third will probably be in the neighborhood of Sacramento, but there is no definite information as to either of these projects.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY LADY JANE.

Woman's City Club.

The purity of governmental effort in and the desolation of Mexico, with its eighty-five rulers during the period of its thirty-five forms of government, was the topic at the meeting of the Woman's City Club, yesterday afternoon, in Hamburg's auditorium, when Thomas E. Gibbon addressed the club. Mr. Gibbon is the author of a book recently published upon the eternal Mexican question, and he read many excerpts from it, chiefly touching the commercial failures of the country. Mr. Gibbon made no personal attacks upon the various rulers of Mexico, but his attitude of neutrality did not prevent him making emphatic statements regarding misgovernment.

There is to be launched a campaign for a new membership by the club, beginning Monday, but the championing of the cause, Mrs. John T. Colman and Mrs. Porter Phelps, have already started their work with notable success. It is the aim of the club to make the membership 1000.

formed of the coming of the expedition and had improved conditions. The British prisoners had suffered more hardships and indignities than the others, Dr. Clark says. The Americans had nearly all been released and sent to France or Belgium.

Dr. Clark's eldest son, A. J. Clark, served in the Engineering Corps, and another son, Joy Clark, was in the Aviation Corps.

Dr. Clark has been prominently identified with relief work for more than twenty years. He founded the Child Savings Institute of Omaha. He was probation officer of the Omaha Juvenile Court and for eight years was secretary of the Nebraska Board of Charities. He organized the Associated Charities of Omaha and was one of the men called into consultation with President Roosevelt when he formed the Children's Bureau.

GETS TEMPORARY ALIMONY.

Judge Willis, presiding in Department Three yesterday, ordered Louis Boesch, a Central avenue baker, to pay his wife, Grace M. Boesch, $30 a month pending the trial of her separate maintenance suit. In her complaint, Mrs. Boesch declared that Mr. Boesch verbally abused her, was pro-German before the United States got into the war and tried to force her to sue for divorce by making home unpleasant for her.

Senator Borah is convinced that the adoption of the covenant of nations will fasten conscription upon the United States. But just how that could be done without the consent of Congress he does not indicate.

ARMY FOR COKEY.
A Gen. Jacob Schleicher Cokey is so keen to organize something why not try a new army composed of all the Bolsheviks in the United States and lead them to Russia? Lenin would no doubt welcome the entire outfit.

SPEAKING CHINESE.
Columbia College is to teach the Chinese language, with special reference to its commercial use. It has been figured out that the language will come in handy on the near-eastern trade that American dealers will be seeking. But we have our idea of the task that looms before the American who sets out to try to learn to speak and write Chinese.

PLEADS GUILTY.
Von Hindenburg is also anxious to help all the Kaiser. The German field marshal declares that he is responsible for all that happened after August, 1918, including the German policy of unreliability. Von Hindenburg need not worry. He can get a trial if he wants one. The Allies may even be inclined to accept his proposition to stand up before a wall at sunrise. But it will be for his own crimes. He has enough to answer for on his own account without being accepted as the goat for all Germany.

IRISH BONDS.
The purchasers of the proposed issue of $5,000,000 of Irish bonds will be limited entirely to the enthusiastic. The Confederates tried to raise money in a similar manner in 1861-65. Their proposed bonds and treasury notes were made payable after the ratification of the treaty of peace between the United States and the Confederate States, an event which never came. The Irish republic's bonds are payable after Great Britain recognizes the independence of Ireland. The Confederates' to the Irish loan will no doubt be considered by the investors as a gift.

THE WANT COLUMN.
In a city of the Middle West a commercial house advertised for an office boy in this fashion: "Wanted—A young man of pleasing personality, about 16 years of age, physically strong, clean and healthy, capable of discharging responsibility. He must be honest, intelligent, persevering, industrious, alert, capable of concentration, of excellent education, unblemished habits and of pleasing, magnetic personality. His aesthetic sensibilities must be somewhat developed and his imagination sufficient to enable him to make distinctions."

For this paragon of youth the firm was willing to pay $8 a week to start with and there was no reason in the world why he shouldn't work up to $75 or $80 a month in ten or fifteen years.

If the steel trust were to advertise in that way the plane would be sized up for a $20,000 job at least.

AIRPLANE AS A PLEASURE CAR.
Aviation exploits and conquests of the air in new and untold directions have followed one another with such rapidity that one cannot be surprised at achievements that a short time ago, would have been regarded as virtually impossible.

It remained for a Los Angeles man, Mr. L. C. Brand, banker, to pave the way for straight flying for personal convenience and pleasure. Like the man who takes his automobile from his garage to motor to golf links or elsewhere and the yachtsman who sails his craft to Catalina or San Diego, Mr. Brand uses his powerful 150-horse-power airplane to fly from his Glendale home to the country club or wherever he desires to go, provided there is landing space.

TURNING THE TABLES.

epidemic and statesmen wearing socks were under suspicion in the Middle West a few years ago a bright young man in Emporia made a Charlie Chaplin hit with a series of articles entitled "What is the Matter With Kansas?" He suggested that a commission should be appointed to make an expert investigation and report what was necessary for Kansas to do to get back into line with the other States.

There has been a shifting of the stage settings and the personnel of the troupe since then; and this young man, grown more mature in years if not in intellect, has just returned from Europe with the weird prophecy that "England will surely have the first soviet government and the King will be the head of it." It will be established without bloodshed or disorder, a royal soviet.

Judging the situation from this distance, one is inclined to the opinion that it is the turn for Kansas to appoint a commission to find out what is the matter with William Allen White.

Developing his soviet theory, Mr. White says: "The King is now playing with the radicals and his associates now are people who could not possibly have been seen within the royal circle before the war." He regards English politics as presenting "a situation just as though President Wilson had taken up Debs and his crowd."

To put a criticism mildly, Mr. White is lying upon the English political situation through defective glasses. In his trip through Europe he has confused marks with realities. He talks very much like Alice awakening from her dream and recounting fragmentary fancies of an excursion through Wonderland. Europe has passed through cataclysms during the last five years, and Mr. White seems to have noted the results, but missed the psychological causes and the trend of thought that brought them about. There is a curious mingling of true premise and faulty deduction.

It is true that certain radical groups have been assimilated by the British government since the beginning of the war and that they are brought into an association with royalty that would not have been possible five years ago. But it is not "as though President Wilson had taken up Debs and his crowd," as Mr. White infers; it is as though Debs and his crowd had rallied to the support of the government when American institutions were threatened by German despotism. While Debs and his followers were sowing seeds in this country the English radicals, to whom Mr. White refers, were making their way to the British recruiting offices. Their patriotism was tried in the trenches and in the war industries and was not found wanting; and as the country returns to peace they are receiving their reward. Debs has gone into a Federal prison; they have gone into the government.

It isn't a royal soviet towards which England is tending, but a constitutional monarchy, wherein democratic institutions will be permitted to function without royal restraint. The former radicals, who are now high in the councils of the British government, represent the highest development of the trade-unionism movement has attained in any country. They have not permitted trade-unionism to blind them to the higher union of the British Empire. They have sought to separate the trade-union movement from disloyalty; they insist that the aims of the unions must not conflict with national unity, and that labor must seek to accomplish those aims only through lawful means.

Bolshevism has no friends among the trade unionists now associated with the British government. There has been a reaction against radicalism since the English workmen have seen its theories put to the test in Russia and Hungary. As for Mr. White, he seems to be just undergoing the attack of Populism of which his State was cured twenty years ago. The symptoms are the same, but there has been a new development. It is now the turn for Kansas to prescribe a remedy for the hallucinations of William Allen White.

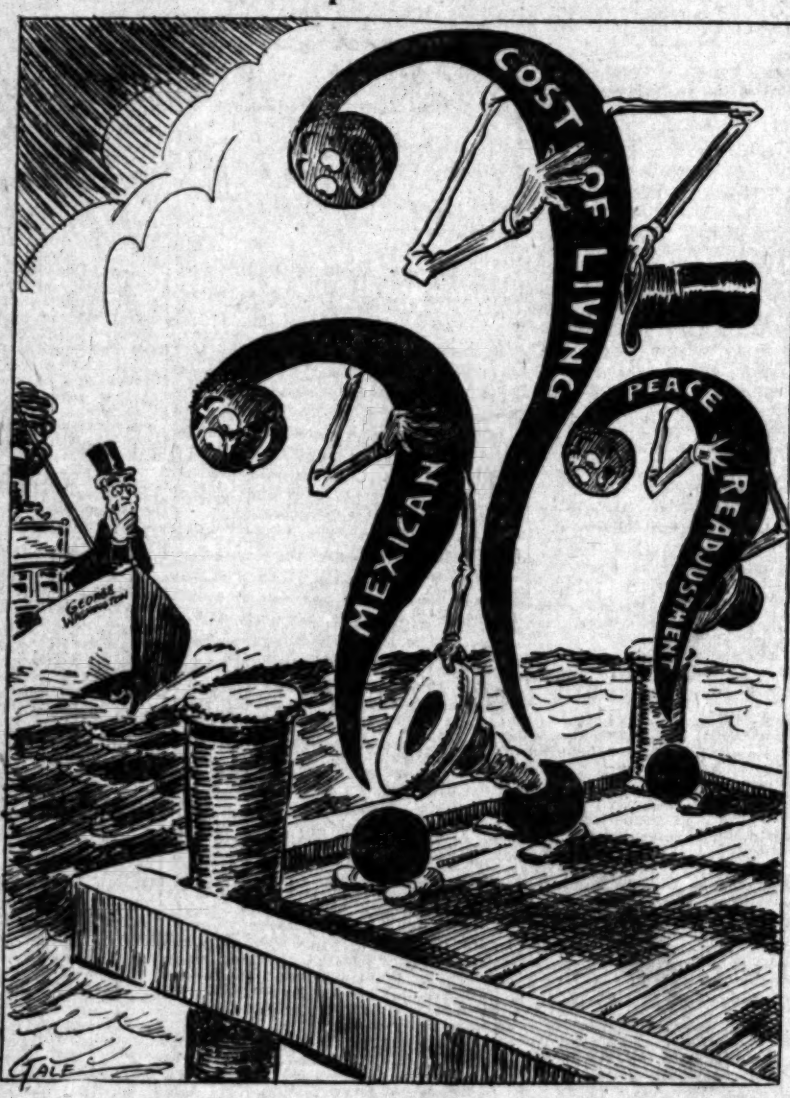

REDUCE THE INCOME TAX.
"Force without cost" was not applied without a vast expenditure and considerable wastage of energy and resources of the country. For twelve feverish months we worked under extreme pressure. Sins were strained until some of them cracked. Industry was spurred to the pace that kills if long maintained. The race is ended, the victory won and a little of the relaxation that follows supreme effort is not to be avoided.

The industry of the country is winded; its pulses are thumping; and it is in no condition to continue to carry the heavy handicaps that were imposed during the heat of the conflict. In order that it may gain the needed respite there must be a readjustment of the tax burdens which the war of necessity imposed. Even though the League of Nations were not to make future wars impossible, the experience of history constrains the great international conflicts, like that through which we have just passed, are not waged more than once in a hundred years. Scientists liken them to the successive volcanic eruptions which occurred during the process of hardening of the earth's surface. A century of peace lies before us during which to discharge our war indebtedness.

It is with the fact more than the theory that the present generation is concerned. It has secured to posterity a heritage of liberty which will free it from the gyres that once enshrouded the wrists of so many peoples. It is not fair and equitable that some of the burden of debt which the war has entailed should be borne by those who are to reap its major benefits? Is it meet that those who have escaped the fire and sword should be crushed by an attempt to repay immediately all the money borrowed for the conduct of the war?

Congress is now deliberating over a fiscal policy. While industry is still gasping for breath the theorists are clamoring that an income tax shall be imposed heavy enough to discharge the entire war debt within the next twenty years. They say that we must turn the country over to the next generation free of all financial incumbrances. All that is chemically altruistic. But it recalls too vividly the father who slaves and stints himself in order that his children may enjoy the life of leisure of which he has so often dreamed. He is not aware that the fortune he amasses is more often a curse than a blessing. A youth without responsibilities is a youth without a future; and this is equally true of a people.

There is a menace in the burden of war taxation. The troops are rapidly demobilizing, but industry is still in the trenches. The weight of devastation and debt, if permitted to fall in a lump, might crush our civilization. If the ox once drops in the furrow, repudiation will follow, and our American institutions will be swallowed up in a maelstrom of Bolshevism.

America's credit has been enhanced by the part we have played in the world struggle. There will be no creditors pressing for their money. Our securities are so good an investment that they will be surrendered with reluctance. Why should we not make use of that credit to extend the payments of the war debt over a period of eighty years? If this should be objectionable to the next generation, which will certainly be in a better position to discharge the indebtedness than our own, it will have the privilege of redeeming the securities as rapidly as it desires.

Surely, the experience of Russia has been sufficient to prove that whatever hits industry hits labor. All the factories and shops of Bolshevik Russia are in the hands of the government, but they are idle. Government is not a producer of wealth; it is little more than a royal mendicant. The only source of income of the government is taxation; and the people must earn the taxes before they can pay them.

In the reconstruction era taxes must be so adjusted that they will be a stimulus to industry. If they could be dispensed with for the next ten years—which is impossible—the prosperity of the country would be greatly enhanced. The lighter burden can be made the easier it will be to get industry out of the trenches. We must not keep our eyes turned so persistently heavenward, seeking for the millennium among the stars, that we are unmindful of the proletarian discontent at our feet.

Tax rates in time of peace are no more necessary than in war bread. It is for ourselves to decide how rapidly the war debt shall be paid. Would it not be well for the present Congress to reduce the income tax and other war taxes to something near the rate in effect before the war and let us work on that basis for a couple of years? The acts passed at the present session are not immutable. Why not start with a burden made as light as possible and increase it as our industries get more firmly established? If the next generation were to be freed from the hard necessity of daily labor it would become decadent. That is the experience of every country known to history. A permissive father generally means a profligate son. That is one of the mysterious laws by which nature achieves her hidden ends; it is the law that has given birth to the adage that, in America, from the furrow to the furrow is but the distance of three generations. To assume the burdens of generations yet unborn is to impoverish ourselves and promote a posterity of weaklings.

CALIFORNIA ATHLETES EXCEL.

That the mellow climate of California is invigorating and strengthening rather than enervating needs no further proof than its vigorous men, women and children, and its sturdy, conquering athletes. Compared to the eastern universities and athletic clubs, professional and semi-professional, California is young in athletics, yet it has turned out champions by the score in every line of sport.

JAPAN AND CONSTITUTIONALISM.

A well-known writer on Japan, Mr. K. K. Kawakami, in his most recent book, has a pregnant sentence. "Throughout all its apparent flippancy," he remarks in the chapter on "Democracy in Japan," "the outstanding quality of the Japanese reveals itself, and that is their extreme sensitiveness to external forces and their ability to adjust themselves to new conditions of life which they deem beneficial or inevitable."

They are essentially a pragmatic people, anxious to be always "in the swim." During the quarter of a century preceding the great war German officialdom and efficiency were in the lead internationally and got far more than their credit. The dangers to Anglo-Saxon civilization, on the other hand, came from a conscienceless plutocracy. With her two successful wars against two empires, now no more, the Chinese and the Russian, when she was advised by German military and civil officials, Japan won. During the past five years she meets with a danger of a new kind, for her industrial and commercial leaders have become money kings; and to-day the upper middle classes of the country are inflated with prosperity. Her successful wars made Japan believe in militarism, and now she faces the perils of plutocracy.

Entering the war as the ally of Great Britain, Japan has seen German autocracy overturned and become contemptible. Emperors everywhere are in the dust and to-day the three great empires of Middle and Eastern Europe are mere geographical expressions, with little shape or form. They are not in the field of alliances or diplomacy; with whom should the Mikado's former ministers treat if they contemplated an anti-Entente alliance? The mere mention of the problem does away with the supposed peril. For the first time in his books on the Japan-American situation Mr. Kawakami recognizes that his native land must become a constitutional monarchy after the type of Great Britain or Belgium.

Hitherto because of the Marxian socialism in which he was indoctrinated he had little love for Great Britain. But he now sees that Great Britain, the ally of Japan, must be the model which Tokio will copy. Like so many unacquainted with the real situation in the Far East, he failed to understand that the "weary Titan," the British Empire, had begun to slacken in her Far Eastern policy; was too little assertive in regard to the "open door" and other questions; and where our republic failed to support her let her oriental ally have things very much her own way. Japan has taken full advantage of the opportunity. This is the situation today: Japan is a spoiled child diplomatically, if not socially.

But with Berlin and all her ways discredited—so emphatically trusted in by Japanese statesmen of the Katsura type—and with a cheap plutocracy which is rapidly gaining the contempt of the people, the Mikado's advisers face a new situation. They must become democratic at their peril. They must align their policy and ways to those of Washington, London and Paris and deal fairly with an educated electorate. The Japanese riots of last summer were significant; they were a protest against an outworn policy. The parliamentary system, adopted under the advice of that sagacious statesman, Prince Ito, was far too closely modeled on the Reichstag; it must be modified so as to become central and not auxiliary.

Japan has only one policy for her future, if she will avoid the perils of anarchy—the natural reaction against soulless militarism and imperialism—namely, to get into real and close political sympathy with her three great allies. The process, while needing time to develop, will be steady and sure if we can trust to the lessons of her past.

The Russian soviet government has been warned by the Washington administration that reprisals against American citizens would arouse sentiment in the United States against the soviet heads. That sort of talk is harmless enough. We have had Presidents in the United States who would have said something that went, under the circumstances.

GOLDEN WORK.

The Capitalist and the Laborer in the Orange Districts.

BY MYRA NYE.

The capitalist is the laborer in the orange districts; the laborer is the capitalist.

This is not just a catch inversion to attract attention. Neither is it a perversion of the truth. The man who is a successful grower of oranges in the East San Gabriel Valley, seven times out of ten, has earned his own land and planted his own trees. He has cultivated, irrigated and exaggerated in the good old California style. But his exaggeration was only an expression of his optimism—a refusal to recognize the hole in his doughnut. His sons have picked the oranges, made the boxes to ship them, worked in the packing-house and are now driving the tractor to harrow the soil to an amazing degree of cultivation between the bosky rows where each individual tree is a pride and delight to its owner.

Thus father and son have become specialists. The newcomer may be caught by the idea of having as great a variety of trees on his place as the acreage will accommodate, with an apple tree hobnobbing with a pomelo, a guava bush with a currant, a banana plant with a quince. In addition the newcomer often dreams of fencing in the whole lot to turnkeys, chickens, geese run together in the orchard untrammelled with tractor, the ducks breaking down the irrigating ditches, with pigeons circling over all to breed in prolific haste rises for their own in the shape of fat, juicy squabs. It sounds idyllic enough in a farm journal or a real estate pamphlet; but the old-timer has learned that the squabs never fatten, the coyotes get the young turkeys in spite of the fence, the ducks die and the trees develop a fungus where their trunks meet the soil.

So the older resident has narrowed to trees of two varieties only—Valencia navels and Valencia. The sun-kissed fruit, their yield, he makes known to all the land. He turns a deaf ear to the enticement of his wife when she says, "Let's raise five years when we meet with a danger of a new kind, for her industrial and commercial leaders have become money kings; and to-day the upper middle classes of the country are inflated with prosperity. Her successful wars made Japan believe in militarism, and now she faces the perils of plutocracy."

That sort of talk is harmless enough. We have had Presidents in the United States who would have said something that went, under the circumstances.

OPEN LETTER TO SENATOR JOHNSON.

LOS ANGELES, July 2, 1919.

Hon. Hiram Johnson, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.
I beg to acknowledge receipt of your speech, made on the floor of the United States Senate, in opposition to the League of Nations. I fully understand that this speech, sent out under your frank, is simply part of the propaganda of a coterie of disgruntled Senators who are peeved because the President, who happens to be a Democrat, has been so largely instrumental in shaping this magna charta for world peace; that speech-making instrument which brings hope to human hearts everywhere. I beg to assure you that the vast majority of the people of California are chagrined and disgusted that our State is so absolutely misrepresented by you on this the greatest question of this century.

It is always a tragedy when men elected to power in a reumbrable prove by their acts the insincerity of their professions. You have professed for years to be a radical Progressive, but this speech proves conclusively that in actuality you are an ultra conservative, doing your best to block the wheels of progress and stop the clock of the new better day for this restless, war-weary world. And, Senator, what good do you think all this bluff and bluster and bulldozing of yours will accomplish?

Then you were our governor your constant slogan was "Let the People Rule," and, if I am not mistaken, it was you who signed the initiative and referendum bills passed by the Legislature of California, so that as you said, "Government could be taken out of the hands of the bosses and restored to the people." Evidently you have forgotten that or, if you still believe in those principles, why do you not apply them now? Resign your seat in the United States Senate. Come back to California; become a candidate for reelection, making "repudiation of the League of Nations by the United States Senate" your platform. Let the people speak, for only in that way can you be true to your professed progressive principles of "Let the People Rule." Until that time don't you in common with the rest of the people of the East that you do not represent one-tenth of the people of California on this question. Yours sincerely,

CHARLES J. HALL.

ANGEL AND ASS.

A lady while going downstairs to dinner had the misfortune to step lightly on the head of a lady in front of her. The man, who was arm the former was leaning rudely said aloud, so that the couple in front might hear:
"Always getting in the way like Balaam's ass!"
Upon which the lady whose gown had been trodden on, turned round, replied, with a sweet smile:
"Pardon me, it was the angel who stood in the way and the ass which spoke." [Vancouver Province.]

RIPLING RHYMES.

VACATION.

And now the city dweller dreams of forest moors and lone fens, of speckled trout in mountain streams and rufous deer that roam the glens. When summer comes with brassy skies, who does not long for things like these, for outings where the mountains rise or in the shade of lordly trees? And surely men who toil and spin for weary months, and give their best, when rattled by the city's din, should have one month of helpful rest. One month of loafing in the dells, where Nature does her smoothest work, and man would come back wearing bells, to do his stint as shipping clerk. One month of idleness, when the wild, the office chairs all left behind, and man would be recognized by his demitasse, grizzled beard, of catching codfish in the sea, of chasing bobcats to their lairs, and man would do the work of three. Though earnestly we workers try to plan out fine vacation schemes, the cost of living is so high we have to take it out in dreams. The grocer and the butcher and the assistant on having all we earn, we pass up the windward hill, the woodland and the brae and burn. The ice-man and the plumber come to tell how much they think we owe in vain the scented breezes hum, we can't enjoy them as they blow.

DISMISS "BIBLE STUDENT" CASE.
Order from Washington on Local Recommendation.
Last of the Local Actions Involving Espionage Act.
Trial Resulted in a Disagreement of Jury.
Under instructions received yesterday by United States District Attorney C. C. Conner from Atty.-Gen. Palmer, the last espionage case on the docket of the local Federal court, that of the United States against John D. Benton and others, members of the International Bible Student Association, charged with conspiracy to violate the act, was ordered dismissed.
The defendants were tried before Judge Bledsoe's department last October, and a disagreement resulted. It was intended to try the case, but on later investigation by the office of the United States District Attorney, it was found that the jury was deadlocked. A second trial would probably have resulted in a similar verdict, so since the war is nearly ended, and a recommendation of the book entitled "The Bible Student" from the Federal authorities, it was decided to dismiss the case.
The act charged against Benton and his co-defendants was that they had conspired to obstruct the war effort by circulating and distributing the "Bible Student" among the military forces. The book, published by the "Bible Student" in New York, April 15, 1918, contained a number of statements which were considered by the Federal authorities to be seditious and to be calculated to bring about the overthrow of the government.
The farmerettes are again going into the fruit belt to assist in the canning and to take care of the rising crops. Southern California has a great demand for their labor.
If, as claimed, the Japanese are to be treated on an equality with the white race, what is to become of the aspirations of the Koreans, who imagine they are just as good as the Japs?

Opposition Develops When Realty Man Seeks Bankruptcy Discharge.
When the petition of Edward D. Silent, a real estate operator of this city, for discharge from bankruptcy came before United States District Judge Trippet yesterday, objection was made to such an order of the court by attorneys representing Mr. Silent's creditors, who wanted to the objections to his discharge. The intervening parties were allowed to file their objections, and the matter set back to Force Parker, referee in bankruptcy, for adjustment.
The protesting creditors were John S. Schmitt, New Jersey; John Noble, San Diego; Frank Halberg, Los Angeles, and M. E. Riggs, Chicago, Pa.
Silent, who for some years was prominent in the business life of Los Angeles, filed his petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, November 29, 1918, giving his unsecured debts as $44,194.30, and his assets as $174,932, of which latter amount $85,932 was alleged to be due on open account.
HACKETT TRIAL PUT OFF UNTIL FRIDAY.
At the request of Attorney W. J. Ford in Judge Houser's court yesterday, the trial of William Hackett, sergeant of police, indicted by the grand jury in the alleged graft investigation, was continued until Friday. The request was not opposed by Chief Deputy District Attorney Doran.

MAY MEAN END OF UTAH CASES.
Dismiss Complaints in Delta Land and Water Suits.
Lack of Due Diligence in the Prosecution is Reason.
Fate of Criminal Actions may Hinge on Decision.
Beginning of the end of the litigation involving the good faith of the corporation known as the Delta Land and Water Company, projector of an irrigation scheme covering 15,000 acres of land in Beaver County, Utah, was indicated yesterday, when U. S. District Judge Trippet, ordered the dismissal of the action brought by Charles H. Annis and his wife, of San Diego County, and about seventy other defendants, against the corporation. The court found in each instance that the case had not been prosecuted with due diligence, or any diligence at all, and hearing that promised to be one of the important hearings in the local Federal Court, goes off the calendar, forever.
The criminal indictment against a number of the backers of the enterprise is still pending, and the case may be set for hearing, next Monday, in Judge Trippet's court. Whether or not it will ever come to trial is uncertain. The indictment was returned in the case of certain alleged misrepresentations were made as to the quality of the land disposed of, to several hundred investors.
Assistant United States District Attorney, Palmer and Postoffice Inspector, Webster, who worked up the evidence upon which the indictment was based, spent some days in the Beaver County country, last spring, looking into the matter. And it is understood that their investigation was not satisfactory from a government point of view, in that the evidence tended to show that here was little likelihood of proving that the individuals under indictment had engaged in fraudulent representations. However, what, if any, future action from a criminal point of view is to be taken, lies with the authorities at Washington. The result of the investigation has been sent there and definite information will soon be forthcoming.
It is understood that the projector of the scheme put in a great deal more money in the scheme than they ever got out. It is also understood, it is said, that scores of investors lost heavily, but that the failure of the enterprise was due more to the inexperience of the people who put their money in the plan than from the alleged misrepresentation of the defendants.
In the mail matter sent out by the officers of the Delta Land and Water Company, it was claimed, it is said, that one million dollars had been invested in a water plant, sufficient to irrigate 15,000 acres of land, and the inquiry by the government shows that only about one-half that amount was spent on the plant, but it is claimed that in Utah it is the custom in estimating the cost of water plants to add the value of the land to be irrigated, to the amount of money actually spent in the enterprise.
In each of these complaints dismissed yesterday, the plaintiff asked that the contract to purchase be rescinded; that the notes held by the Delta Land and Water Company for the purchase of the Utah land and water stock be canceled; that the notes and mortgages be returned; that the defendants be enjoined from disposing of these securities, and that a judgment be rendered for the amount of money paid by the complainants. The sums of money sought to be recovered in each case, but the total is in excess of $100,000.
LYNN HELM HEADS EDUCATION BOARD.
COMMITTEES FOR THE NEW YEAR ARE APPOINTED BY THE PRESIDENT.
Lynn Helm was re-elected president of the Board of Education for one year at noon yesterday, when the new board took office. Charles J. McCormick was the only other contestant. The vote, which was taken by secret ballot, stood 4 to 2 in Mr. Helm's favor.
The new board was called to order promptly at noon by William A. Sheldon, the secretary, and Melville Dozier was elected temporary chairman.
Mr. Helm appointed the following committees: Finance Committee, Charles J. McCormick, chairman; D. K. Edwards and Mrs. C. C. Ashley, building committee; D. K. Edwards, chairman; Bessie D. Stoddard and Melville Dozier, Teachers' and Schools' Committee; Bessie D. Stoddard, chairman; C. J. McCormick and Mrs. C. C. Ashley, Law and Rules Committee; Melville Dozier, chairman; Bessie D. Stoddard and M. Jessie York, Insurance Committee; M. Jessie York, chairman; D. K. Edwards and Melville Dozier, Purchasing Committee; Mrs. C. C. Ashley, chairman; Charles J. McCormick and M. Jessie York.
Following the appointment of the committees, on motion of Mr. McCormick, seconded by Miss Stoddard, the board adjourned until 4 p.m. Thursday.
The retiring board met at 11 a.m. yesterday, and completed all its business. Clark E. Seaman and C. C. Parker, the retiring members of the board, each made a short talk, in which they thanked the board for its co-operation. Lucius K. Chase was not present at the final meeting.
CITY CLUB MEMBERS' DRIVE BIG SUCCESS.
The Los Angeles City Club has secured the 2000 members desired in the drive to guarantee the success of the new quarters, the twelfth and thirteenth floors of the Investment Building, formerly the Sigma Maude Club quarters. The board of directors has decided to make the membership limit 2000 without increase in fees or dues. The phenomenal growth of the City Club is one of the marvels of local clubdom. The big drive for new members was under the direction of Judge Harlan G. Palmer.

Two Things
You should do this week—see that your money is in a good savings bank savings account where it will draw 4% interest compounded semi-annually and be subject to no risks and no city, county or State taxes, where it will always be at work, always increase and never diminish, and where it will be in reach if you want it.
And put your valuables—papers, jewelry, keepsakes, silverware, etc.—in a good safe deposit department, where some of them should always be kept and where all of them will be safe from every kind of risk while you are away for the summer or on vacation.
Do these two things today at the Home Savings Bank and add to your summer recreation and rest a sense of protection and safety.
New Savings Accounts Opened on or Before July 15th will draw interest from July 1st.

PRAISE FOR ANGELENO.
Local Engineer in Chief of Central Records Office in France.
The Service Record, recently published by the central records office at Bourges, France, contains an article describing and highly praising the work of Capt. Frank D. Shearer, chief of the central records office overseas. Capt. Shearer lives at 2321 West Thirty-first street, and prior to entering the army service was for many years with the Los Angeles water department as a civil engineer.
He was personal adjutant of the Fortieth Division. As chief of the central records office he introduced methods that largely increased the efficiency of the office. He is now inspector of the records office in Germany, in the Rhine district. It is probable that he will remain in Europe until most of the American army has been sent home.
FLOOD DAMAGE SEEKER WAITED BIT TOO LONG.
FAILURE TO DILIGENTLY PRESS ACTION HELD FATAL BY FEDERAL JUDGE.
United States District Judge Trippet yesterday dismissed the action brought by Harry Havery against the Sweetwater Water Company for alleged damages resulting from a flood in the Sunnyside Valley in San Diego county, following a collapse of the Sweetwater dam.
It was claimed that the summons in complaint was not served upon the defendant corporation for the most fourteen months after the filing of the suit. It was also shown by an affidavit of Havery that he is without funds to make a protracted legal fight, also that his orchard had been destroyed by the flood waters.
On the part of Havery it was asked that the court refuse to dismiss the action, pending a decision of the United States Supreme Court in a test case brought by the owners of the many other ranches destroyed by the same flood.
Judge Trippet held, however, that the failure of the plaintiff to exercise the proper diligence and to follow the well-established rules of Federal practice was fatal to his interests, and that there was nothing in the affidavit of Havery that would justify the court in refusing to dismiss.
DENIES SMALL CLAIMS.
Two claims against the city for alleged damages were denied by the city court at its last session before retiring from office. One of these was the claim of Mrs. F. M. Schaefer for damage to her suit when she came in contact with a freshly-painted fire hydrant, and the other was the claim of Tong Fook Young for personal injury when an ornamental lamp post on a Hollywood street fell upon him and broke some of his bones.

FOR GRAND CRUISE.
Many Young Men Enlist for Navy's Big Voyage this Fall.
It is said that not since the famous trip of the ships of the United States Navy around the world ordered by President Roosevelt in 1908 has there been such a great peace voyage planned for places far away as that being arranged by the navy for this fall, when the leading vessels of the nation's great fleet will enter western waters and touch at Los Angeles and other Pacific ports.
In order that this city may be well represented and that the navy may be strengthened by many good young sailors from the Southland, Commander Charles A. Harris of the new recruiting station, 318 Union Oil Building, is making a vigorous campaign for recruits. He declares that this cruise will afford perhaps the finest chance that young men could get to see the world and at the same time get training in many trades by which they can afterward earn a good livelihood. He is prepared to take on twenty a day.
ALIMONY PENDING TRIAL.
Mrs. Elizabeth M. Eldred was awarded temporary alimony of $12.50 a week from Frank Eldred of Whittier by Judge Taft yesterday. Mrs. Eldred, who has been married twenty-two years, charged in a suit for divorce which is pending that her husband deserted her.

GOOD-NIGHT, EDDIE HERR!

Norman Blight Shifts to Bay City to Fatten on Oaks.

Have Picking Staff that is Hard to Beat.

Here this Week; Angles to Tackle Situations.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

But, but! But those pesky Salt men did play last week, and, naturally, they surely bailed up money by the card; for if ever a team showed in high class play this year, this same team did.

And now the question arises itself—how in the thunder is it that the Mormons are so far down in the percentage column?

Now that the Tigers have the bees off their stomachs they will sharpen their incisors this week and attempt to sink them good and hard into Bill Rodgers' in-and-out Senators.

CHAMP COMING TO AMERICA.

(BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WIMBLEDON, July 7.—G. L. Patterson, Australia, won the men's singles tennis championship here today in the international tournament by defeating Norman E. Brookes of Australia, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

In the semifinals of the mixed doubles championship played here today, Miss Ryan, United States, and R. Lycett, Australia, defeated Mrs. Larcombe and R. W. Thomas, both of England, 6-2, 6-3.

MAURY PLANS HIS INVASION.

Has Most Wholesome Respect for Brookes.

Australian is Eager to Beat McLoughlin.

Even Tom Bundy Shows Some Excitement.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

The Australian tennis players are coming to the United States for the purpose of defeating Maurice E. McLoughlin, the Comet. Norman Brookes has been hankering for a chance at the Californian ever since the Davis cup matches. In those Maury defeated both Brookes and Wilding.

At the time Brookes took his defeat very hard, throwing down his tennis racket and shaking his fist at the American fans cheering for their favorite.

Now that the Tigers have the bees off their stomachs they will sharpen their incisors this week and attempt to sink them good and hard into Bill Rodgers' in-and-out Senators.

Local Motoring Interests Say that Truck Transport Should End Here.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The first complete military motor convoy to attempt a transcontinental journey left Washington today for San Francisco. Col. A. Owen Seaman of the motor transport corps, was in charge. It was expected that the trip would be completed within sixty days. Sixty-three trucks, including ambulances, repair shops and kitchen, comprised the train. Before its departure the train was reviewed by Secretary Baker and a number of army officers.

The purpose of the trip, as explained by Secretary Baker, is to develop a through route from coast to coast for motor transport and to demonstrate the practicability of long distance commercial transportation by motor trucks. Recruits for the motor transport corps will be enlisted during the journey.

IS UNDER WAY.

Los Angeles is the logical terminus for the transcontinental highway of the motor truck transport which is pouring westward from Washington. In support of this contention, officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California have for some time been active in trying to bring before high army officials the actual facts of the case.

Representing the motoring interests of this part of the State, the club is now in touch with Washington officials endeavoring to secure a split, at least, of the transport at Ely, Nev., one-half coming to Los Angeles and let the other go to San Francisco.

"We can prove that the southern way is a fast one if such a split is secured," say club officials.

BEST ROUTE.

"If the purpose of sending a large number of trucks across the continent is to establish the possibility of this mode of transportation of

GREATEST TRIP IN THE WORLD.

Opening of Tioga Road Makes Yosemite Nearer.

Countless Streams and Lakes in Short Radius.

Fishing Bureau Expert Raves Concerning Trek.

Every State in the entire Union lays claim to the best trips and best scenic routes over which to automobile during vacation time, but only California can rightfully claim to possess the best vacation trip in the entire world. The Yosemite National Park has long been acclaimed one of the most beautiful of the West's majestic sights, and it has long been the Mecca for a great number of people every year, who wish to visit the wonderful natural resources of the United States.

ROAD OPEN.

Now the news is out that the Tioga Road is open to the public commencing today, thus making it possible for any tourist to make his way Yosemite-ward with the greatest facility. Such a road as is now open is a blessing to the office-bound men and women, who get vacations in summer. Cepha Salisbury of Dyas formerly with the United States Fishing Bureau, who knows practically all of the best fishing localities in the country, as well as New Zealand, Australia, and other places, is authority for the statement, that in all of his travels he knows of no other trip which gives more excellent chances for fishing, well as the viewing of scenery, than does the Yosemite trip now made available to everyone, through the opening of the Tioga Road.

This trip is about 900 miles, up and back. Taking the Tioga Road to Bishop and straight from Bishop to Yosemite and then back by the Valley boulevard makes an exceptional trip. In and around Bishop there are 150 lakes and close to fifty streams, all of which are teeming with fish at this time of the year. Within fifty and seventy-five miles of Bishop a network of the best roads in the United States gives access to these streams and lakes.

GET TROUT.

Some of the greatest fishing, according to Mr. Salisbury, is to be had in this region. When an angler can get trout which will run up as high as twenty pounds he is going to report the trip as a success. Reports show that conditions now are at their best, and as the fishing gets better and better in August and September, lucky indeed is the man who can get up along this trail of fish and scenery for a vacation.

From Tioga Road to Big Pine the first one day is the trip. From morn 'till night and they will bite at anything. It is hard to imagine better sport in the United States, if not in the world, for fishing, combined with a scenic trip of magnificent scenery, such as the Yosemite trip comprises, is the way Mr. Cepha Salisbury ended his eulogy of the world's greatest vacation trek.

SWIMMER GIVES A UNIQUE EXHIBITION.

EXPERT MAKES HIT AT URBITA SPRINGS—NOVEL FIRE DIVE PLEASES CROWD.

For the last few days, starting on July Fourth, a group of clever performers from the Wilkinson College of Swimming, Flower street, at Sixteenth, Los Angeles, gave a unique exhibition in the lake at Urbita Springs Park, San Bernardino, to the delight of the big crowds, who had never before beheld such a display.

Prof. T. H. Kendall, C.T.S., demonstrated several modern styles of swimming. Leila Catudal did a dare-devil backward dive from a height of sixty feet, and also did an exciting dive clothed in fire. Ruth Hart swam with hands and feet tied, and made some sensational dives from the highest platform, including a fire dive.

PROLIFIC FISHING.

In the Bishop country, where numerous streams drive the anglers into ecstasy, Fred Raymer went, a short time ago. This time he chose Convict Lake as his destination. Writing back to a friend, he reports that a limit a day was his limit, and in size his fish were running one to three pounds steadily. The writer says that Raymer and his fishing was a delight to the soul. What more can one want?

ED WALSH RESIGNS.

Tom claims hereafter as he is fully convinced they know no more about comic affairs than he knows.

TENNIS PLAY ON FOR DEL MONTE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

DEL MONTE, July 7.—The number of tennis enthusiasts, spending the summer at Pacific Grove, Monterey and near-by towns are working up interest in the invitational tennis tournament at Del Monte on Sunday, July 13. Visiting tennis players from out of town are expected to enter against the local crack.

TO MIX AGAIN.

Frankie Garcia and Young Farrell will mix in the semifinal bout on the card. The match between these two lads is a return bout at the request of both the boxers. Farrell claims that he was awarded an unpopular decision over Frankie, and the former is anxious to show the local fight fans that he is the better of the two.

George Moss and Jack Oliver, two sluggers, are scheduled for a match on Friday afternoon at the July Fourth show.

More Friday shows will be given until next fall.

TWO KRAMERS TO MEET AGAIN.

Moss to Slug with Oliver; No More Friday Gos.

Danny Kramer will try and even things up with Sailor Kramer tonight when they meet in the main event of the card lined up by Matchmaker "Wad" Wadhams for the regular Tuesday evening boxing show at the Vernon Athletic Club.

Sailor Kramer is the only local 125-pounder who holds a victory over Danny, and the latter is anxious to win a decision over the sailor and take the only dark spot off his Vernon fight record. These two lads are boxers of the slugger type, and plenty of action and mixing is assured.

JESS IS ON HIS WAY HOME.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

TOLEDO, July 7.—Jess Willard, dethroned heavyweight champion of the world, tonight is on his way to his Lawrence, Kan., home and permanent retirement from the ring. Willard, accompanied by his wife and two personal friends, began the long motor trip late this afternoon. The defeated champion is making the trip in a seven-passenger car he purchased here during his training period. Willard expects the trip will consume about a week. The swelling over his left eye had disappeared and the only marks he bore was a slight discoloration over the eye and a cut lip.

The task of checking up the gate receipts and attendance of the fight was left to the promoter, who is expected to present all profits to the charity.

NO FRAME-UP.

Allegations made by William G. Rorap, a sporting writer of Philadelphia, that there were collusion between Rickard and Willard in promoting the championship match were investigated today by the Toledo Boxing Commission, under whose license the contest was staged. The commission gave Rickard a vote of confidence and invited Rorap to present any evidence he may have that the commission, of which Mayor Schreiber, and C. H. Wall, director of Public Safety, and members, adopted a resolution, declaring it had been unable to find any evidence of collusion; that the contest was conducted squarely and honorably, and that Rorap be notified to present all profits if he has any, to the commission within a week, or "forever hold his peace."

The refusal of the Ohio Board of Motion Picture Censors to allow pictures of the contest to be exhibited caused disappointment here.

Hundreds of people waited outside picture theaters hoping that the picture would finally be approved.

Frank K. Hall, of New York, who, with Rickard and Willard, owns the picture, said $200,000 would be lost in Ohio because of the board's action.

Giants Forge into Lead with Two Victories While Cincinnati Rests in National League

EAST TO MEET WEST THURSDAY

Sam Hardy Defeats Johnston in Chicago.

Order of Pairing Announced by Officials.

Doubles Combination Works Very Fine.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, July 7.—William M. Johnston, Axel Graven and Robert Kinsey, the three California players who will compose half the team of the West in the annual West vs. East sectional tennis championship, this week, came and went in Chicago today. They will be back next week for the ninth annual national clay court tournament, at the South Side Tennis Club here.

The three San Francisco youths arrived this afternoon, and immediately hustled to the train to the South Side Club to get the kinks out of their arms and to familiarize themselves with the hard courts over which they will play in the clay court fixture. They left for Cincinnati, the scene of the East-West team contest, tonight.

The three Chicago players who will make up the other half of the Western team of six, at Cincinnati, will follow the San Francisco trio today. They are Samuel Hardy, Ralph H. Burdick and A. L. Green, Jr. The East-West matches begin at Cincinnati on Thursday afternoon and continue through Saturday. The six western players and the six easterners, who also will come from Cincinnati to the clay court meet here, will have their matches in the clay court event held over until Monday.

HARDY WINS.

Johnston and Hardy teamed up today and defeated Graven and Kinsey two sets in three the first set of singles, but this should not be taken as an indication that the Coast star has lost the form which made him United States national lawn tennis champion in 1915. Sam Hardy always is a particularly tough man to beat, and Johnston betrayed some uncertainty and lack of control in his powerful forehand drive, which is natural, coming from a train ride of several days and changing from the hard, black sand courts which prevail on the Coast, to the smoother, white, stone dust courts at the South Side.

Johnston and Hardy showed tip-tennis in the first set of their clash against Graven and Kinsey. Johnston was driving to perfection. Hardy made just as many points on his low bounding chops to the rear court, and he and Johnston had full mastery of their volleying in the first set.

They won the first set 6-2, the second 6-4 and lost the third, 4-6, stalling down the strenuous pace in the second set, while Graven and Kinsey seemed to be feeling more and more at home on the courts, which at the start were perfectly new to them. In the practice set of singles Hardy won from Johnston, 6-4. They played a few more games in a second set, then quit for the day. The Coast men were tickled with the showing they made just after getting off the train to the kind of courts to which they were completely unused.

The order in which the western tennis team will play against the easterners was announced tonight. Johnston will lead off, Hardy will play No. 2, Burdick No. 3, Kinsey No. 4, Green No. 5 and Graven No. 6. There may be a shift in the fourth and fifth places, as it is possible Kinsey and Green may play for the position.

As the order of play for the eastern team was announced from New York last week, the line-up of the sections now is complete. The stars of the two sections will clash at Cincinnati:

West. 1—Johnston, 2—Hardy, 3—Burdick, 4—Kinsey, 5—Green, 6—Graven. East. 1—Graven, 2—Kinsey, 3—Burdick, 4—Hardy, 5—Johnston, 6—Graven.

CITY NATURAL TERMINUS.

closed by snow from December until May or June, and not available for any transport, whether it be army or pleasure.

Therefore, if Washington cannot make Los Angeles the logical and official terminus of the truck train, the club is trying to secure a part of the train to come southward to demonstrate that such a route is feasible—and then it is open all year.

"It seems possible," pointed out Secretary Mitchell yesterday, "that the government may want to transport supplies sometime in the winter as well as in summer. If an attempt were made in winter to reach the Coast over the northern branch of the Lincoln highway, by way of Reno, a complete and heavy blockade of snow would be encountered."

"However, winter or summer, motor parties are reaching the Pacific Coast over the Lincoln highway if they take the Elv cutoff to Southern California, thence connecting with the big paved highway systems of the Coast. The Automobile Club of Southern California has signposted the Elv-Los Angeles route. The organization is merely trying to demonstrate that this is the logical all-year highway by wiring Washington for a split of the transport."

"If the effort fails, the club knows that it still stands in the right so far as trying is concerned."

P. W. Hocking, president of the National Highway Marking Association, presented a "zero" milestone to the government to be placed near the White House to mark the starting point of the trip. The stone was accepted by Secretary Baker.

The itinerary of the journey shows the trucks will reach Meyers, Cal., August 28; August 27, Placerville; August 26, Sacramento; August 25, Stockton; August 24, Oakland; and September 1, San Francisco.

FISH BITING, SAID ANGLERS.

Interest in Waltonian Game is Very Keen.

Vacation Holiday Best of All, Say Crouds.

Catches Excellent in the Sea; Health First.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

Favored bountifully by three of the most wonderful summer days that ever fell together under a July sun in any country, the licensed anglers of Southern California established a precedent for "safe and sane celebration" of the national birthday, that deserves to endure.

Enabled, by the far-sighted wisdom of the city's foremost business men to avail themselves generally of a "triple holiday" over this last week-end, the thousands of good, earnest sportsmen usually caged behind counters, the grating windows of banks, buried in the pits of garages, or hidden away in other of the countless walks of the week-day's work, were irrepressible as schoolboys on an unexpected vacation. Granted a chance to enjoy life in competition with their "bosons" playing the finest, healthiest game devised to divert mankind since it ceased to be all in the day's work and rose to divide with hunting the high honor of becoming his oldest, most enduring recreation, the way these men and their families improved their opportunity to share Nature's most generous moods was more than remarkable.

In town "the quietest Fourth ever" in the country, each resort keeper thought he must have cornered 'em all. Not a boulevard was thronged with cars of every name and nature, loaded to the running boards with bedding and the necessary "cats." The thousands of tanned cheeks, and brightened eyes that turned up to business at the clock tick Monday morning told their story of dividends already declared in terms of enhanced health.

As for the fishing, excellent though it generally was, the matter of catches is always of secondary importance. The big, outstanding thing is that certainly 25,000 men, women and children—perhaps twice that—were drawn out of doors during these three days by the lure of angling. Whether they caught something or nothing; tuna or trout or fresh anadromous, they got out of fresh-air fatigue, they got out of God's open and came back immeasurably better for it.

In a country where such popularity is evidenced in angling, those who catch enough fish to feed their while ahead should feel well pleased, and the lucky experts who bring home a few to neighbors must consider that they have beaten the game. Yet some splendid catches were piled up, particularly by those who elected to get their license dollars' worth of angling in playing the ocean species of fish that are classified by the state as "Surf fishing" was at its very height.

DOCK A MARVEL

WARD ANGUS.

Langien, the 20-year-old Frenchman who holds the international tennis championship, was made by his father, M. Langien, a wealthy Frenchman, with a villa at Nice, nothing to occupy his mind but the passing of time. When his daughter was born he resolved to make her the champion tennis player of the world.

His one desire was to make her a champion.

As soon as Suzanne could walk, the father had her out on a tennis court, hitting balls around with a toy racket. He marked off the tennis court into one-foot squares and numbered each and every square. He impatiently waited the day when she would be big and strong enough to hit the ball over the net.

The day came, and with it the father's dream.

The father would sit in the sun while the girl played in the sun. He would call out a square number and command her to hit the ball over the net and land it in the square.

He is reported to have made his daughter practice as many as eight hours a day. She has played often, with tears streaming down her cheeks. When she would not work for the father used his cane, with a stinging effect and magic results.

But now his labors have been rewarded, and the mademoiselle has become accustomed to the racket. She is champion and her father the proudest man in France.

Pera Langien will allow no daughter to practice only against men players. That has made her a man-player out of her own unobtainable by women.

Very few men players can stand from her. She defeated most of the best American players who visited Nice, among them Peck and Capt. Waters, champion of the Southern States.

Also, the fond father will allow her to play no man who can beat her. He carefully watches the game of every opponent he meets for his darling.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (California)

What Greater Tribute Could There Be?

As you perhaps already know, the several Goodyear factories are today at full blast on the heaviest production schedule they have ever undertaken.

Right now, for example, the output of our Akron plants alone approximates the astonishing figure of 25,000 finished tires per day.

Yet this enormous total, easily the largest daily volume ever attained by a tire manufacturer, still is insufficient fully to satisfy public needs.

The demand for Goodyear Tires continues to increase and strengthen beyond anything within our present power to fulfill.

It seems to us that nothing that has been said of Goodyear Tires so powerfully bespeaks their goodness as their present unparalleled popularity.

This popularity takes on an additional significance in that it is based wholly on the virtues inherent in Goodyear Tires.

No fictitious discounts, no delusive definite mileage guarantees, no expedients of any sort have been employed to stimulate artificially the favor that Goodyear Tires year after year command.

What greater tribute could there be to Goodyear Tires than that their unexampled leadership has been won solely by the service Goodyear users everywhere enjoy.

It is possible you may find it difficult to fill your immediate wants for Goodyear Tires, as many Goodyear Service Station Dealers' stocks are very low.

In view of this condition we suggest that you anticipate your future requirements by placing a reservation order with your nearest Goodyear dealer.

Such action now will guard against any possible disappointment later, and avert any inconvenience this temporary shortage might otherwise occasion.

In the meantime we are devoting our whole energies to the expansion of our production, in an endeavor to make Goodyear Tires as easy to get as they are worth while to use.

OIL COMPANY
 ISSUES STATEMENT.

SUMMARY OF FIVE AND A HALF MONTHS FOR SIX MONTHS
 ENDING JUNE 30.

The following statement of the Union Oil Company, published in accordance with the requirements of the company's constitution for the report of the company's operations for the six months ended June 30, 1919.
 The statement is based on the company's books and records, and is subject to audit by the stockholders. The statement is not intended to represent a statement of the company's financial condition, but is intended to show the company's operations for the six months ended June 30, 1919.

$6,000,000

Shaffer Oil and Refining Company

Participating 7 Per Cent. Cumulative Preferred Stock

Par value of shares $100, fully paid and non-assessable.

Preferred as to assets and dividends.

We summarize as follows from a letter signed by Arthur S. Huey, Esq., Vice-President of the Standard Gas and Electric Company, which owns a controlling interest in the Shaffer Oil & Refining Company:

Participating
 Features

This participating preferred stock will be entitled to cumulative dividends at the rate of 7% per annum from July 1st, 1919, before any distribution of dividends is made to the common stock, and will participate equally with the common stock share and share alike in dividends up to $10 per share per annum, and in addition is entitled to participate in any further dividends above $10 per share per annum at the rate of 1/4 of 1% for each $1.00 paid in excess of the above on the common stock.

Properties

The properties, representing a complete cycle in the oil industry from field production of crude petroleum to marketing or finished products, comprise the following: Over 57,000 acres of selected oil lands in Oklahoma and Kansas, of which only 6789 acres are now being operated; 391 oil wells producing about 4000 barrels daily and 16 producing gas wells; leases in excess of 51,000 acres in Texas upon which it is planned to carry forward rapid development operations; transportation facilities, including 100 miles of gathering lines with field stations and 52 miles of main pipe lines and 508 steel tank cars; modern refinery at Cushing with capacity for 6000 barrels crude oil daily, manufacturing in addition to gasoline the various oils, greases, waxes, and other by-products of paraffine base oil; 25 steel storage tanks with total capacity of 1,375,000 barrels; a complete equipment for the distribution of finished products direct to the consumer.

Value

Based on appraisals of independent experts the estimated value of the properties (including approximately $4,000,000 cash to be in the treasury of the company,) after deducting the Convertible Bonds outstanding is equal to $200 for each share of this Participating Preferred Stock.

Earnings

Earnings for the past three years, as set forth in Mr. Huey's letter, have averaged over three times the requirements for annual dividends on Participating Preferred Stock outstanding and earnings for the year 1918 amounted to more than three and one-half times these requirements. It is estimated that the earnings of the company for the next twelve months on the same basis will amount to more than five times annual dividend requirements on this Participating Preferred Stock.

Management

The present management and organization will continue with the new company, augmented by the large engineering management, construction forces and accounting facilities of the Standard Gas and Electric Company.

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR GRAIN BOOSTS PRICE.

CORN REACHED THE HIGHEST POINT IN HISTORY OF
 MARKET FOR FUTURES.

[RECEIVED DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, July 7.—A surprising bulge in grain values was made at the start that carried corn higher than at any time known for futures. Cash values, however, have been much higher, but restrictions on futures in 1917 prevented them from selling in proportion to the cash. Nearly delivers were in urgent demand from foreign buyers and while not holding the best prices, closely with the bulge and showed a 1-cent lower at the last. Data after their bulge, due to concent buying, most increased selling and closed with July 4 cent lower, September up 1/4 cent and December 1/2 cent higher in Chicago.

HOGS IN CHICAGO
 ADVANCE TO $22.40.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

CHICAGO, July 7.—After breaking the high price record three times last week, the hog market today continued its upward course. New top quotations were established at $22.40 a hundred-weight, as against an average cost of $21.53 on Thursday, since when there had been no
 trading until this morning.

A little competition developed in July corn. A few scattered buyers which appeared when the market was bare of offerings jumped the price up 1/4 cent to $1.04, a new high figure. Some crop orders were uncovered but as soon as the buying ceased prices settled back quickly with some selling by cash houses against purchases in the sample market. The settlement, however, was strong in the finish which was at $1.00.
 Hogues with eastern connections and foreman at the market side of the September and 1 advanced readily with the July closing at $1.88 1/4.
 A new record.

While oats advanced sharply early with corn and showed a cent above Thursday's finish, the close was near with July fractionally lower at 70¢ cents, and the September and 1 higher with September 71 1/2 cents and December 71 1/2 cents.

 New York, July 7.—The cotton market showed removed strength at the coming today.
 The early news showed no serious damage from the storm, the appearance of which had been largely responsible for Thursday's advance, but Liverpool made a very firm showing over the local building and the coming here was 40 to 50 points higher with October selling at 23.75 cents and December 23.50 cents. There was a good deal of trading at this level, causing reactions of 20 to 25 points from the last after the close. The market became very quiet and irregular. The morning with a few selling up to 24.00 and January to 23.00, or about 80 to 100 points not higher. Increasing complaints of boll weevil damage and the continued strength of Liverpool were the factors for the advance.
 Trading was less active during the early afternoon. Prices had generally steady, however, with reactions of about 20 points from the best with October selling around 23.50 cents at 2 o'clock.

STEEL MERGER FOOTS
 NEARLY $100,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Steel and Tube Company of America, which was organized last week, will have balance sheet footings of nearly $100,- 000,000, according to a statement issued today.
 The company's entire issue of preferred stock has been purchased by William A. Wood & Co., bankers of this city.
 The corporations involved in the consolidation are the Steel and Tube Company of America, the Northwestern Iron Company, the Ore Properties of the Newport Mining Company, Holway Iron Company at Indiana Harbor, Indiana.

What Gilbert-True Oil Co. Offers

This Company—capitalized for $150,000—offers three wonderful money making opportunities in the oil business.

THEIR FIVE ACRES in Northwest Burk Burnett not only adjoins the TEXAS CHIEF, but this five acres is known as the TEXAS CHIEF OFFSET. That is, the property to be an offset must be within 300 feet of the TEXAS CHIEF well itself. This five acres is now being drilled under contract for the GILBERT-TRUE COMPANY—according to our latest advices—and is worth in our estimation the entire capitalization of the GILBERT-TRUE OIL COMPANY—the TEXAS CHIEF is the biggest well in the Burk Burnett field—and the TEXAS CHIEF OFFSET well—or the GILBERT-TRUE well—should be the SECOND BIGGEST WELL IN THE FIELD.

THE SETTLED PRODUCTION owned by the GIL-BERT-TRUE—of 100 barrels a day—amounts to over $6000 a month—or $75,000 a year—this warrants the dividend which the Company is paying.
 THE ROYALTY OWNED by the GILBERT-TRUE COMPANY on the NORWOOD WELL and tract is another valuable asset. The NORWOOD first well is producing over 7000 barrels daily. The entire tract consists of 750 acres and the TEXAS COMPANY is under contract to drill—ONE WELL FOR EVERY TEN ACRES. They have nine wells now drilling with two on the land. This royalty alone should in a short time pay at least 100 per cent. to stockholders yearly.

GILBERT-TRUE OIL is the "wonder" stock on the market today—and should be bought while the opportunity at $1.50 is available.
